Why Canada Needs Postal Banking John Anderson,2023-12-08 In almost half the communities in small town and rural Canada that have a post office there are no bank or credit union branches Only about fifty four bank and credit union branches exist in the over 615 First Nations communities in Canada A growing number of urban areas in Canada have no accessible banks or credit unions Why Canada Needs Postal Banking offers a plethora of information about the banking industry that will shock ordinary Canadians In explaining the banking system that many of us take for granted the author reveals a deep and largely unrecognized gap between the services offered in densely populated urban spaces and those available in small towns rural and remote regions and Indigenous communities As a solution to this dearth in services John Anderson proposes a logical alternative to big private sector banks the post office Basing his argument on historical fact international experience and the exorbitant cost of traditional banking services the author builds a logical and compelling case for reestablishing banking services at Canada Post Composed of a collection of research papers interviews and opinion pieces Why Canada Needs Postal Banking provides convincing and well organized data to support the reintroduction of postal service banking in Canada Readers can absorb survey results that document citizen municipality and union support for this strategy Tables and graphics

Mann,2006-09-11 This book was the first comprehensive treatment of credit cards in the global economy The topic is timely not only because of the attention focused on cards as a contributor to the substantial rise in consumer borrowing but also because of the role of cards in the recent retrenchment in the US bankruptcy system Relying on data from the US the UK Canada Australia and Japan Charging Ahead includes the first careful statistical analysis of the relation between the rise of credit card use and broader macroeconomic phenomena like consumer borrowing savings and bankruptcy It also provides a broad narrative of how credit cards have come to be used so differently around the world Finally it sets out a detailed and coherent program for regulatory intervention grounded in both empirical analysis and the existing theoretical literature Fixed John Y. Campbell,Tarun Ramadorai,2025-10-21 Two leading economists reveal why today s personal finance markets are rigged against us and offer practical steps to fix them We interact with the financial system every day whether taking out or paying off loans making insurance claims or simply depositing money into our bank accounts Fixed exposes how this system has been corrupted to serve the interests of financial services providers and their cleverest customers at the expense of ordinary people John Campbell and Tarun Ramadorai diagnose the ills of today s personal finance markets in the United States and across the globe looking at everything from short term saving and borrowing to loans for education and housing financial products for retirement and insurance They show how the system is fixed to benefit those who are wealthy and more educated while encouraging financial mistakes by those who are not making it difficult for regular consumers to make sound financial decisions and disadvantaging them in some of the most consequential economic transactions of their lives Campbell and Ramadorai describe how some even opt out of the financial system altogether relying on unregulated and often shady mechanisms to implement necessary financial functions with dire consequences for individuals families and the economy more broadly With the explosive growth of the global middle class longer lifespans and greater numbers of seniors managing their money alone the pitfalls of personal finance now affect billions of people around the world Fixed proposes concrete solutions that harness the expertise of economists the power of government and the speed of technology to restore fairness and trust in our broken system and make it work better for ordinary people
