The Fractured Marketplace for Standardized Testing Walter M. Haney, George F. Madaus, Robert Lyons, 2012-12-06 Standardized testing in the United States has been increasing at a rapid pace in the last twenty five years The market for tests has not only been expanding rapidly but has also been changing sharply in structure into a fractured marketplace Indeed one of the main features of this book is that the market for standardized testing is highly fractured with segments of the market facing monopoly conditions others facing oligopoly conditions and still others where near free market conditions exist One of the main premises of the book is that the structures of markets have strong implications for how those markets perform While this notion is widely accepted among economists it is not widely appreciated in educational research A second motivation for the book is that very little scholarly attention has been focused on the standardized testing industry This topic the structure of the testing industry and implications for the quality of tests and test use affects how we evaluate the learning of students the effectiveness of teaching the quality of schools and the educational health of the nation Of particular concern to the authors is one vital aspect of test quality test validity This book is the most current and authoritative review and analysis of the market for standardized testing

Educational Leadership and Michel Foucault Donald Gillies, 2013-05-28 Drawing from the ideas of Michel Foucault this book offers a critical examination of today s dominant discourse of educational leadership Foucault s understanding of critique is as a permanent ethos in which humans explore the nature of their existence but at the same time query the limits imposed upon them and probe opportunities for increase

Social Network Analysis and Law Enforcement Morgan Burcher, 2020-07-24 This book examines the use of social network analysis SNA in operational environments from the perspective of those who actually apply it A rapidly growing body of literature suggests that SNA can reveal significant insights into the overall structure of criminal networks as well as the position of critical actors within such groups This book draws on the existing SNA and intelligence literature as well as qualitative interviews with crime intelligence analysts from two Australian state law enforcement agencies to understand its use by law enforcement agencies and the extent to which it can be used in practice It includes a discussion of the challenges that analysts face when attempting to apply various network analysis techniques to criminal networks Overall it advances SNA as an investigative tool and provides a significant contribution to the field that will be of interest to both researchers and practitioners interested in social network analysis intelligence analysis and law enforcement

Leaders in Educational Research María de Ibarrola, D.C. Phillips, 2014-11-04. In this volume fourteen fellows of the International Academy of Education whose research work is known internationally reflect upon the ways in which their careers have been shaped by early family influences, by random events and surprise opportunities and by nascent intellectual interests and academic mentoring. The authors come from many different countries: Australia, Belgium, Cyprus, Germany, Greece, Israel, Mexico, South Africa and the USA and from a number of disciplinary or intellectual orientations including curriculum development, economics, educational measurement and statistical analysis, history, philosophy, policy analysis, program evaluation, psychology and sociology. They come from diverse social and cultural backgrounds and in many cases rose above the travails presented by wars, social unrest and social injustice to attain an education that launched them eventually into a research career. On this path many were unexpectedly assisted by established researchers who served as mentors or enablers. Their personal stories then are of broad interest and may even be a source of comfort and inspiration to younger colleagues who are commencing their careers in the international educational research community.
