The Need Taboo Tales 15:

Life Story Research in Sport Kitrina Douglas, David Carless, 2014-12-17 What is life really like for the elite athlete How does the experience of being a professional sports person differ from the popular perceptions of fans journalists or academics Why might elite sports people experience mental health difficulties away from the public gaze In the first book length study of its kind Kitrina Douglas and David Carless present the life stories of real elite athletes alongside careful analysis and interpretation of those stories in order to better understand the experience of living in sport Drawing on psychology sociology counselling psychotherapy and narrative theory and on narrative research in sports as diverse as golf track and field athletics judo and hockey they explore the ways in which the culture of sport interacts with the mental health development identity and life trajectories of elite and professional sports people in highly pressurised and sometimes unhealthy environments By casting light on a previously under researched aspect of sport the book makes a call for strategies to be put in place to minimise difficulties or distress for athletes for support to be tailored across the different life phases and highlights the potential benefits in terms of athlete well being and improved performance The book also considers how these important issues relate to broader cultural and social factors and therefore represents important reading for any student or professional with an interest in sport psychology coaching sport sociology youth sport counselling or exercise and mental health

The Novels and Tales of Robert Louis Stevenson ... Robert Louis Stevenson, 1898

National Service Life Stories Peter Gurney, Matthew Grant, Joel Morley, 2025-01-25 National service was a defining feature for a generation of young men in post war Britain Around 2 3 million of them were called up between the end of World War Two and 1963 when conscription ended However national service was forgotten almost before it had ended a process aided subsequently by professional historians who have been reluctant to assess its longer term influence on British social and political history Based on original oral interviews with well over one hundred men this book explores the ways in which compulsory military participation reverberated in the memories of interviewees long beyond the end of conscription and how these early military experiences shaped their later life stories Unlike existing accounts that tend to rely on memoirs written by officers or else oral interviews that concentrate narrowly on the details of military service this study focusses instead on men from working class backgrounds and it situates national service in the context of the life course and the wider transformations that have occurred in British society since conscription ended In so doing the work shines new light on important areas of current scholarly interest and historiographical concern including the changing meaning and experience of class masculinity and citizenship as well as the complexities of popular memory

Novels and Tales Robert Louis Stevenson, 1902

The Splendor of Longing in the Tale of the Genji Norma Field, 2019-01-29 Foremost among Japanese literary classics and one of the world's earliest novels the Tale of Genji was written around the year A D 1000 by Murasaki Shikibu a woman from a declining aristocratic family For sophistication and insight Western prose fiction was to wait centuries to rival her work Norma Field explore the shifting configurations of the Tale showing how the hero Genji is made and unmade by a series of heroines Professor Field draws on the riches of both Japanese and Western scholarship as well as on her own sensitive reading of the Tale Included are discussions of the social psychological and political dimensions of the aesthetics of this novel with emphasis on the crucial relationship of erotic and political concerns to prose fiction Norma Field is Assistant Professor of Far Eastern Languages and Civilizations at the University of Chicago Originally published in 1987 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Untold Stories David Divita, 2024-01-31 Forgetting about Spain's civil war 1936-9 and subsequent dictatorship was long seen as a necessary safeguard for the democracy that emerged after General Francisco Franco's death in 1975 Since the early 2000s however public discussion of historical memory has awakened efforts to remember this past through the personal testimonies of Spaniards who experienced it firsthand Untold Stories expands accounts of twentieth century Spain by presenting an ethnography of an ignored population the impoverished men and women who fled Franco's dictatorship in the 1960s participating in a wave of labour migration to northern Europe Now in their eighties they were born around the time of the civil war and came of age during its repressive aftermath before leaving Spain as young adults The book features a community of such Spaniards who gather regularly at a senior centre on the outskirts of Paris Drawing on concepts from linguistic anthropology David Divita analyses conversational encounters recorded among the seniors to demonstrate how a turbulent past shapes mundane moments of social interaction in the present Documenting what is said as well as what is not Divita reveals through detailed textual analysis how silence can pervade the creation of social meanings such as belonging authority and legitimacy Untold Stories illuminates the impact of a harrowing historical period on some of Spain's most marginal citizens in the early years of the dictatorship

The London Stage 1890-1959 J. P. Wearing, 2014-10-30 Theatre in London has celebrated a rich and influential history and in 1976 the first volume of J P Wearing's reference series provided researchers with an indispensable resource of these productions In the decades since the original calendars were produced several research aids have become available notably various reference works and the digitization of important newspapers and relevant periodicals Spanning 1890 through the 1950s all seven volumes of The London Stage series have been revised corrected and expanded In addition approximately 20 percent of the material in particular information about adaptations and translations plot sources and comment information is new Although each volume contains indexes specific to that decade The London Stage 1890-1959 Accumulated Indexes combines all of the indexes into one comprehensive resource for more efficient research For example those wishing to locate all the references to a particular actor play or theatre whose history spanned more than one decade will find all of the entries listed in this set This set includes four key indexes general genre theatre and title The general index consists of numerous subject entries on such topics as acting audiences censorship costumes managers performers prompters staging and ticket prices With approximately 40 000 people listed this is the largest single source of theatrical personnel on the London stage during this period The genre index comprises all entries for production types including comedies dramas farces and tragedies as well as ballets operas adaptations foreign works pantomimes and translations The theatre index features every building to stage a production from the Adelphi to Wyndham s The title index cites 14 000 productions identifying every work produced on stage from Domestic Economy in January 1890 to When in Rome in December 1959 As a supplement to the individual volumes The London Stage 1890 1959 Accumulated Indexes will be of value to scholars theatrical personnel librarians writers journalists and historians
