The New American Cinema:

The New American Cinema Jon Lewis, 1998 Deliberately eclectic and panoramic THE NEW AMERICAN CINEMA brings together thirteen leading film scholars who present a range of theoretical critical and historical perspectives on a rich and pivotal time in American cinema that from the mid 1960s to the present With its range of topics and breadth of critical approaches this anthology illuminates the volatile mix of industrial process and artistic inspiration that comprises American moviemaking 46 photos The Hollywood Renaissance Peter Krämer, Yannis Tzioumakis, 2018-06-28 In December 1967 Time magazine put Bonnie and Clyde on its cover and proudly declared that Hollywood cinema was undergoing a renaissance For the next few years a wide range of formally and thematically challenging films were produced at the very centre of the American film industry often but by no means always combining success at the box office with huge critical acclaim both then and later This collection brings together acknowledged experts on American cinema to examine thirteen key films from the years 1966 to 1974 starting with Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf a major studio release which was in effect exempted from Hollywood's Production Code and thus helped to liberate American filmmaking from self censorship Long standing taboos to do with sex violence race relations drugs politics religion and much else could now be broken often in conjunction with extensive stylistic experimentation Whereas most previous scholarship has examined these developments through the prism of auteurism with its tight focus on film directors and their oeuvres the contributors to this collection also carefully examine production histories and processes In doing so they pay particular attention to the economic underpinnings and collaborative nature of filmmaking the influence of European art cinema as well as of exploitation experimental and underground films and the connections between cinema and other media notably publishing music and theatre Several chapters show how the innovations of the Hollywood Renaissance relate to further changes in American cinema from the mid 1970s onwards

Movie Journal Jonas Mekas, 2016-04-19 In his Village Voice Movie Journal columns Jonas Mekas captured the makings of an exciting movement in 1960s American filmmaking Works by Andy Warhol Gregory J Markopoulos Stan Brakhage Jack Smith Robert Breer and others echoed experiments already underway elsewhere yet they belonged to a nascent tradition that only a true visionary could identify Mekas incorporated the most essential characteristics of these films into a unique conception of American filmmaking's next phase He simplified complex aesthetic strategies for unfamiliar audiences and appreciated the subversive genius of films that many dismissed as trash This new edition presents Mekas's original critiques in full with additional material on the filmmakers film studies scholars and popular and avant garde critics whom he inspired and transformed Contemporary American Cinema Linda Ruth Williams, Michael Hammond, 2006-05 One of the rare collections I would recommend for use in undergraduate teaching the chapters are lucid without being oversimplified and the contributors are adept at analyzing the key industrial technological and ideological features of contemporary U S cinema Diane Negra University of East Anglia UK Contemporary American Cinema offers a fresh and sometimes revisionist look at

The Roots of Modern Hollywood Nick Smedley, 2014

In this insightful study of Hollywood cinema since 1969 film historian Nick Smedley traces the cultural and intellectual heritage of American films showing how the more thoughtful recent cinema owes a profound debt to Hollywood's traditions of liberalism first articulated in the New Deal era

Although American cinema is not usually thought of as politically or socially engaged Smedley demonstrates how Hollywood can be seen as one of the most value laden of all national cinemas

Drawing on a long historical view of the persistent trends and themes in Hollywood cinema Smedley illustrates how films from recent decades have continued to explore the balance between unbridled individualistic capitalism and a more socially engaged liberalism He also brings out the persistence of pacifism in Hollywood's consideration of American foreign policy in Vietnam and the Middle East His third theme concerns the treatment of women in Hollywood films and the belated acceptance by the film community of a wider role for the American post feminist woman Featuring important new interviews with four of Hollywood's most influential directors Michael Mann Peter Weir Tony Gilroy and Paul Haggis The Roots of Modern Hollywood is an incisive account of where Hollywood is today and the path it has taken to get there

The New American Cinema Michael A. Butrim, 1988

The Jew in American Cinema Patricia Erens, 1988-08-22 Placing cinematic representations of the Jew within their historical context Bartov demonstrates the powerful political social and cultural impact of these images on popular attitudes He argues that these representations generally fall into four categories the Jew as perpetrator as victim as hero and as anti hero Examples range from film's early days to the present from Europe Israel and the United States

Robert Redford and American Cinema Michael Allen, 2021-03-25 Michael Allen's insightful study explores the long and diverse career of the actor and director Robert Redford from his early work in theatre and TV to his contemporary status as an iconic and enduring star Allen assesses Redford's importance to the American film industry during a period of great transformation as an influential industry player an award winning director and a committed political activist Allen considers Redford's individual achievements in the context of shifts and changes in the industry as a whole some of which benefited Redford's own progress and development some which he engineered himself as well as discussing Redford's star persona in relation to ageing and masculinity moment of change in the history of American film Weaving a rich historical narrative Ramirez argues that the Cold War struggle for cultural supremacy motivated the creation of the federally funded AFI Exploring the intersection of business interests and political objectives Ramirez demonstrates how the AFI's approach to experimental and independent cinema was marked by an interest in promoting innovative aesthetics and protecting the creative freedom of filmmakers but lacked the attention to distribution and exhibition that would strengthen the viability of experimental and independent filmmaking as professional practices Scholars of film history and American studies will find this work particularly useful American Cinema of the 1990s Chris Holmlund, 2008 Films discussed include Terminator 2 The matrix Home alone Jurassic Park Pulp fiction Boys don't cry Toy story and Clueless American Film Satire in the 1990s J. Nilsson, 2013-06-25 This study examines how a particular selection of films turned American cultural material of the 1990s into satirical experiences for viewers and finds that there are elements of resistance to norms and conventions in politics to mainstream news channels and Hollywood and to official American history already embedded in the culture American Films of the 70s Peter Lev, 2000 American film in the 1970s is analyzed fully in this groundbreaking study revealing an art form in transition and widening in scope to offer serious critiques of American culture alongside increasingly well produced entertainment Simultaneous American Independent Cinema Geoff King, Claire Molloy, Yannis Tzioumakis, 2013 The American independent sector has attracted much attention in recent years an upsurge of academic work on the subject being accompanied by wider public debate But many questions remain about how exactly independence should be defined and how its relationship might be understood with other parts of the cinematic landscape most notably the Hollywood studios Edited and written by leading authors in the field American Independent Cinema indie indie wood and beyond offers an examination of the field through four sections that range in focus from broad definitions to close focus on particular manifestations of independence A wide variety of examples are included but within a framework that offers insights into how these are related to one another More specifically this collection offers an account of recent developments as well as reviewing reassessing and revising a number of central positions approaches and arguments relating to various parts of the independent and or indie sector Individual case studies that range from the distinctive qualities of the work of established quality filmmakers such as Wes Anderson Steven Soderbergh and Rebecca Miller to studies of horror genre production at the more disreputable end of the independent spectrum Examples of the limits of independence available in some cases within Hollywood including studies of the work of Stanley Kubrick and Hal Ashby Case studies of under researched areas in the margins of American independent cinema including the Disney nature films and Christian evangelical filmmaking A number of wider overview chapters that examine contemporary American independent cinema from a number of perspectives Together the chapters in the collection offer a unique contribution to the study of independent film in the United States Contributors Warren Buckland Philip Drake Mark Gallagher Geoff King Peter Kr mer Novotny Lawrence James MacDowell Claire Molloy Michael Z Newman
