The New York Genealogical and Biographical Record, 2008 Base Ball Founders Peter Morris, William J. Ryczek, Jan Finkel, 2013-07-15 This book completes the series of histories of the clubs and players responsible for making baseball the national pastime that began with Base Ball Pioneers 1850 1870 McFarland 2011 Forty clubs and hundreds of pioneer players from the first hotbeds of New York City Philadelphia New Jersey and Massachusetts are profiled by leading experts on baseball's early years The subjects include legendary clubs such as the Knickerbockers of New York the Eckfords and Atlantics of Brooklyn the Athletics of Philadelphia and Harvard's first baseball clubs and fabled players like Jim Creighton Dickey Pearce and Daniel Adams but space is also given to less well remembered clubs such as the Champion Club of Jersey City and the Cummaquids of Barnstable Massachusetts What united all of these founders of the game was that their love of baseball during its earliest years helped to make it the national pastime Liber A Henricus Selyns, 2009-10-07 Liber A of the Collegiate Church archives contains detailed 17th century records of the Reformed Dutch Church of the City of New York including correspondence texts of legal documents and lists of names of consistory members Especially significant are records pertaining to the granting in 1696 of the royal charter of incorporation of the Church and records relating to donations for and construction of the church building on Garden Street Nearly all of these pages were written out in the late 1600s by Domine Henricus Selijns 1636 1701 Most of them are in Dutch with a few portions such as records of official governmental proclamations in English The historical records of Liber A are here presented with a detailed historical introduction a full and complete Dutch text transcribed from the original manuscript for the first time a new English translation of the Dutch text presented on facing pages detailed explanatory notes about historical persons and events and an index of names of persons and places The full Dutch texts have never before been published and they should be of keen interest to readers in the United States and in the Netherlands concerned with American colonial history especially the history of New Netherland and of New York and the history of the Reformed Dutch Church in America and its relations with the Reformed Church in the Netherlands Front and back flap of book jacket The Pitcher Book William Richard Phipps, 2020-12-07 The Pitcher name seems most prevalent in Eastern England and it could have possibly come from a job description as many surnames were derived from the actual occupation of the name bearer It seems to be most definitely of Anglo Saxton origin somewhere in the range of the years 1200 to 1500 Some sources speculate that it might be a name given to a person from the Picardy section of Northern France which is a region that adjoins Normandy This is a region from which many of the followers of William the Conqueror came which may have introduced the name into England as early as the 1066 invasion London church registers list the name as early as December 26 1581 when Matthew Pitcher was christened at St Martin in the Fields This massive volume covers thirteen generations of Pitchers beginning with Andrew Pitcher who was born in Devonshire Parish of Kent or Worcester England in 1621 and came to America about 1634 Entries typically include the descendant's full name date and place of birth name of spouse and date of marriage names of spouse's parents date of death and place of burial and names of children with date and place of birth for each Additional information such as occupation is often provided A list of sources and a full name index add to the value of this work
