Adamec, 2009-09-02 There is both unity and variety in the Islamic world Muslims are not a homogeneous people who can be explained solely by their normative texts the Koran and the Sunnah Muslims differ vastly in their interpretation of Islam modernists want to reinterpret Islam to adapt to the requirements of modern times while traditionalists tend to look to the classical and medieval periods of Islam as their model of the Islamic state The A to Z of Islam presents a concise overview of Islamic history religion philosophy and Islamic political movements This is done through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and cross referenced dictionary entries which include the biographies and thoughts of medieval thinkers as well as those of modern members of the religious and political establishments Articles describe the major sects schools of theology and jurisprudence as well as aspects of Islamic culture Together this book represents a brief introduction to the field of Islamic studies Islam, Constitutional Law and Human Rights Tommaso Virgili, 2021-09-15 This book focuses on Islamic constitutionalism and in particular on the relation between religion and the protection of individual liberties potentially clashing with sharica and the Islamic ethos The analysis goes from general to particular starting with a theoretical overview on constitutionalism human rights and Islam moving to the assessment of the post Arab Spring Constitutions of Egypt and Tunisia and concluding with a specific focus on the rights of sexual minorities and freethinkers Part I provides a theoretical account of the conception of constitutionalism and human rights in Islam compared and contrasted with Western constitutionalism A set of issues where the tension between sharica and human rights is accentuated is analysed against the backdrop of the main Islamic charters of rights Part II conducts a similar assessment based on the Constitutions of Tunisia and Egypt the two main epicentres of the Arab Spring Part III moves to two specific rights in the same countries from the twofold perspective of the Constitutions and international law the freedom from interference in one's intimate life with particular regard to homosexuality and the freedom of holding and expressing nonconventional beliefs deemed unacceptable from the point of view of traditional Islam These issues have been chosen as representative of the most controversial still considered taboo in both legal and social terms hence at the fringes of the debate on individual freedoms Focusing on two overlooked and underexplored issues the work thus pushes the boundaries of the human rights discourse in Muslim contexts
