The Roving Party:

The Roving Party Rohan Wilson, 2014-02-25 An exceedingly powerful debut Wilson's compelling story carries us through forest and over plains leaving a trail of dead men Alan Cheuse The Chicago Tribune 1829 Tasmania A group of men convicts a farmer two free black traders and Black Bill an aboriginal man brought up from childhood as a white man are led by Jon Batman a notorious historical figure on a roving party Their purpose is massacre With promises of freedom land grants and money each is willing to risk his life for the prize Passing over many miles of tortured country the roving party searches for Aborigines taking few prisoners and killing freely Batman never abandoning the visceral intensity of his hunt And all the while Black Bill pursues his personal quarry the much feared warrior Manalargena A surprisingly beautiful evocation of horror and brutality The Roving Party is a meditation on the intricacies of human nature at its most raw

ROVING PARTY. ROHAN. WILSON, 2016 Broken Circles Anna Haebich, 2000-11-01 This major work reveals the dark heart of the history of the Stolen Generations in Australia It shows that from the earliest times of European colonization Aboriginal Australians experienced the trauma of loss and separation as their children were abducted enslaved institutionalized and culturally remodeled Providing a moving and comprehensive account of this tragic history this study covers all Australian colonies states and territories The analysis spans 200 years of white occupation and intervention from the earliest seizure of Aboriginal children through their systematic state removal and incarceration and on to the harsh treatment of families under the assimilation policies of the 1950s and 1960s The resistance struggle and achievements of Aboriginal people in defending their communities regaining their rights and mending the broken circles of family life provides a compelling parallel story of determination and courage Empire and Indigeneity Richard Price, 2021-05-30 Indigeneity is inseparable from empire and the way empire responds to the Indigenous presence is a key historical factor in shaping the flow of imperial history This book is about the consequences of the encounter in the early nineteenth century between the British imperial presence and the First Peoples of what were to become Australia and New Zealand However the shape of social relations between Indigenous peoples and the forces of empire does not remain constant over time The book tracks how the creation of empire in this part of the world possessed long lasting legacies both for the settler colonies that emerged and for the wider history of British imperial culture Meanjin Vol 72, No 4 Meanjin Quarterly, 2013-12-15 Helen O Neil takes us inside the development of Labor's long awaited Cultural Policy and the future of the policy under a new government Rebecca Harkins Cross brings us the first in a series on new media art in Australia with an essay looking at the revolutionary ways Indigenous Australian artists are using video Jennifer Mills quits poetry and ponders the peculiar life of the self declared poet while Rebecca Giggs takes us into the wide blue yonder in pursuit of a mysterious giant eyeball Lesley Harding and artist Rebecca Mayo walk the Merri Creek wearing some very special garments and Hilary McPhee undertakes the fraught process of archiving the past Journalist Jill Jolliffe contemplates her eventful visits to war torn Angola in the early

1990s and Ellena Savage takes us to Bougainville and an uneasy adjustment to tropical living There s new fiction from Briohny Doyle Mireille Juchau and Anika Quayle and sparkling poetry from Eileen Chong Elizabeth Lawso Chris Mansell Kate Middleton and many more

The Last Man Tom Lawson,2014-01-27 Little more than seventy years after the British settled Van Diemen s Land later Tasmania in 1803 the indigenous community had been virtually wiped out Yet this genocide at the hands of the British is virtually forgotten today The Last Man is the first book specifically to explore the role of the British government and wider British society in this genocide It positions the destruction as a consequence of British policy and ideology in the region Tom Lawson shows how Britain practised cultural destruction and then came to terms with and evaded its genocidal imperial past Although the introduction of European diseases undoubtedly contributed to the decline in the indigenous population Lawson shows that the British government supported what was effectively the ethnic cleansing of Tasmania particularly in the period of martial law in 1828 1832 By 1835 the vast majority of the surviving indigenous community had been deported to Flinders Island where the British government took a keen interest in the attempt to transform them into Christians and Englishmen in a campaign of cultural genocide Lawson also illustrates the ways in which the destruction of indigenous Tasmanians was reflected in British culture both at the time and since and how it came to play a key part in forging particular versions of British imperial identity Laments for the lost Tasmanians were a common theme in literary and museum culture and the mistaken assumption that Tasmanians were doomed to complete extinction was an important part of the emerging science of human origins By exploring the memory of destruction The Last Man provides the first comprehensive picture of the British role in the destruction of the Tasmanian Aboriginal population

Possession Bain Attwood,2015-02-04 It contemplates why these agreements were forged how the Aboriginal people understood their terms why government repudiated them and how settlers claimed to be the rightful owners of the land Bain Attwood also reveals the ways in which the settler society has endeavoured to make good its act of possession by repeatedly creating histories that have recalled or repressed the memory of Batman the treaties and the Aborigines destruction and dispossession and charts how Aboriginal people have unsettled this matter of history through their remembering

Australian Fiction as Archival Salvage Frances A. Johnson,2015-11-16 Australian Fiction as Archival Salvage examines key developments in the field of the Australian postcolonial historical novel from 1989 to the present In parallel with this analysis A Frances Johnson undertakes a unique study of in kind creativity reflecting on how her own nascent historical fiction has been critically and imaginatively shaped and inspired by seminal experiments in the genre by writers as diverse as Kate Grenville Mudrooroo Kim Scott Peter Carey Richard Flanagan and Rohan Wilson Mapping the postcolonial novel against the impact of postcolonial cultural theory and Australian writers intermittent embrace of literary postmodernism this survey is also read against the post millennial history and culture wars which saw politicizations of national debates around history and fierce contestation over the ways stories of Australian pasts have been written
