Myles,2017-09-07 Over the last decade the concept of clustering has become a central idea for analyzing the competitiveness of nations industries and firms This book shows how the cluster concept can be usefully applied to the study of maritime activities Such activities including shipping shipbuilding and port and maritime services are clearly geographically concentrated in a number of maritime clusters However as the author shows these are having to compete with other uses of the coasts and oceans including capture fisheries marine aquaculture offshore energy and tourism Sound governance and planning is therefore required to manage the competing claims for ocean space The book shows how competing industries and other stakeholders can cooperate and benefit from an integrated approach to the development of maritime clusters The contribution of approaches such as integrated coastal zone management and innovations such as ocean business councils as well as coordinated networks of maritime clusters are reviewed Case studies are included from around the world including detailed examples of the development of the Nelson Mandela Bay Maritime Cluster in South Africa and from Poland in the Baltic Sea
