

The Rainy Season

After Summer come the rains. Of course, it gives relief from the extreme summer heat. The rainy season begins in mid-June and continues even up to mid-September. The sky becomes cloudy. Sometimes the rainfall is continuous for several hours. The situation becomes then not at all comfortable. Ponds, tanks, canals, rivers and low grounds become full of water. Streets in the cities are even water-logged. Moreover, a heavy rainfall causes floods. These are the causes of much suffering to common people. Yet, the season has its role. This is the time for cultivation and other agricultural activities. This washes nature and makes it all fresh, clean, and green.
