

What Was the Driving Force Behind European Imperialism in Africa?

For the 300 years between 1500 and 1800, European nations traded for slaves, gold, and ivory along the west coast of Africa, but they did not go deeply into the continent. In the 1800s this changed as European explorers pushed their way into the interiors of western and central Africa. By the 1880s Africa was under full assault as European nations competed with one another for control for the continent. This Mini-Q takes a look at this quest for colonies and asks what was the primary driving force behind it.

The Palgrave Handbook of Africa and the Changing Global Order Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba, Toyin Falola, 2021-11-22 This handbook fills a large gap in the current knowledge about the critical role of Africa in the changing global order By connecting the past present and future in a continuum that shows the paradox of existence for over one billion people the book underlines the centrality of the African continent to global knowledge production the global economy global security and global creativity Bringing together perspectives from top Africa scholars it actively dispels myths of the continent as just a passive recipient of external influences presenting instead an image of an active global agent that astutely projects soft power Unlike previous handbooks this book offers an eclectic mix of historical contemporary and interdisciplinary approaches that allow for a more holistic view of the many aspects of Africa s relations with the world

African Culture and Global Politics Toyin Falola, Danielle Sanchez, 2014-01-10 This volume attempts to insert itself within the larger discussion of Africa in the twenty first century especially within the realm of world politics Despite the underwhelming amount of attention given to Africa s role in international politics in popular news sources it is evident that Africa has a consistent record of participating in world politics one that pre dates colonization and continues today In continuance of this legacy of active participation in global political exchanges Africans today can be heard in dialogues that span the world and their roles are impossible to replace by other entities It is evident that a vastly different Africa exists than ones that bolster images of starvation corruption and compliance The essays in this volume center on Africa and Africans participating in international political discourses but with an emphasis on various forms of expression and philosophies as these factors heavily influence Africa s role as a participant in global politics The reader will find a variety of essays that permeate surface discussions of politics and political activism by inserting African culture rhetoric philosophies into the larger discussion of international politics and Africa's role in worldwide political social and economic debates

International Relations was therefore both a field of study and knowledge production and a plan of action This pathbreaking book challenges these claims by presenting an alternative narrative of International Relations In this book we make three interconnected arguments First we argue that the natal moment in the founding of IR is not World War I as is generally believed but the Anglo Boer War Second we argue that the ideas methods and institutions that led to the making of IR were first thrashed out in South Africa in Johannesburg in fact Finally this South African genealogy of IR we show in the book allows us to properly investigate the emergence of academic IR at the interstices of race Empire and science Africas Growing Role in World Politics Tatiana Deych,Alexander Zhukov,2016-06-13 This volume titled Africas Growing Role in World Politics includes a selection of papers dedicated to the problems of the contemporary international relations and foreign policies of the African states Most of these papers were presented at the panels held within the framework of the 13th International Conference of Africanists Society and Politics in Africa Traditional Transitional and New Moscow Russia May 27-30 2014 The book contains many articles devoted to the Western countries policies in Africa On the background of the ongoing competition between Washington and Beijing the US Administration has recently increased the amount of attention it pays to the continent European Union is also actively developing its strategic partnership with Africa The authors analyze thoroughly the ongoing cooperation between African states and a great emerging donor and investor China They particularly address the question about possible implications of Chinas African policy for the countries of the continent Major attention is given to Sudan and South Sudan One of the urgent problems addressed by this book is the situation with African IDPs and refugees their life conditions in camps and the measures for their transition to normal life Evaluation Management in South Africa and Africa Fanie Cloete,2014-12-01 This blind peer reviewed book systematically records analyses and assesses for the first time in a single volume the implications of the global development and management of professional evaluation for the African continent The book deals with the most strategic contemporary evaluation themes Each of these themes contains discussions of theoretical issues illustrated with one or more short case studies while selected longer case studies and other relevant documentation are also taken up in annexures at the end of the book The book therefore comprises a guide to best M E practices for purposes of systematic policy programme and project evaluations It is suitable for both professional M E institutionalisation and capacity building projects as well as for evaluation information dissemination and education at different levels in the public private and voluntary sectors in society especially in a developmental context

Iroanya,F. O. C. Nwonwu,2008 Risk analysis studies on Africa conducted by a number of international organisations have addressed a number of complex and interlocking socioeconomic and political issues largely painting a bleak picture of the continent These reports have been used by the Western countries as benchmarks for the flow of donor funds often with disastrous consequences The failure of the Structural Adjustment Programmes SAPs introduced by the Bretton Woods institutions in the 1970s and 1980s serve as a good example Taking cognisance of these interpretations the case studies in this volume have employed appropriate methodological conceptual and theoretical approaches with the objective of reaching balanced assessments on the underlying principles of risk and threat in Africa The authors take a more holistic view clearly defining the concept of risk and its corollaries and going beyond the somewhat limited view of those organisations which apply largely Eurocentric values to their assessments
