What Is The Difference Between Nsfas And Study Loan:

Let's Talk About Varsity ,2009      Higher Education Financing in East and Southern Africa Pundy Pillay,2010 This nine country study of higher education financing in Africa includes three East African states Kenya Tanzania and Uganda five countries in southern Africa Botswana Lesotho Mozambique Namibia and South Africa and an Indian Ocean island state Mauritius Higher Education Financing in East and Southern Africa explores trends in financing policies paying particular attention to the nature and extent of public sector funding of higher education the growth of private financing including both household financing and the growth of private higher education institutions and the changing mix of financing instruments that these countries are developing in response to public sector financial constraints This unique collection of African country case studies draws attention to the remaining challenges around the financing of higher education in Africa but also identifies good practices lessons and common themes      Narrative Psychology and Vygotsky in Dialogue Jill Bradbury,2019-09-06 This book draws together two domains of psychological theory Vygotsky's cultural historical theory of cognition and narrative theories of identity to offer a way of rethinking the human subject as embodied relational and temporal A dialogue between these two ostensibly disparate and contested theoretical trajectories provides a new vantage point from which to explore questions of personal and political change In a world of deepening inequalities and increasing economic precarity the demand for free decolonised quality education as articulated by the South African Student Movement and in many other contexts around the world is disrupting established institutional practices and reinvigorating possibilities for change This context provokes new lines of hopeful thought and critical reflection on discontinuities across historical time theories of social and psychological developmental processes and the practices of intergenerational life particularly in the domain of education for the making of emancipatory futures This is essential reading for academics and students interested in Vygotskian and narrative theory and critical psychology as well as those interested in the politics and praxis of higher education      Born in Chains Clinton Chauke,2018-05-15 What is it like to be born dirt poor in South Africa Clinton Chauke knows having been raised alongside his two sisters in a remote village bordering the Kruger National Park and a squatter camp outside Pretoria Clinton is a young village boy when awareness dawns of how poor his family really is there's no theft in the village because there's absolutely nothing to steal But fire destroys the family hut and they decide to move back to the city There he is forced to confront the rough and tumble of urban life as a bumpkin He is Venda whereas most of his classmates speak Zulu or Tswana and he has to face their ridicule while trying to pick up two or more languages as fast as possible With great self awareness Clinton negotiates the pitfalls and lifelines of a young life crime and drugs football religion friendship school circumcision and ultimately becoming a man Throughout it all he displays determination as well as a self deprecating humour that will keep you turning the pages till the end Clinton's story is one that will give you hope that even in a sea of poverty there are those that refuse to give up and ultimately succeed      Fees Must Fall Susan

Booyesen,2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and it s double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt

Transforming Transformation in Research and Teaching at South African Universities Rob Pattman,Ronelle Carolissen,2018-12-21 What is transformation in contemporary South African higher education How can it be facilitated through research and pedagogic practices These questions are addressed in this edited collection by established academics and emerging research students from nine South African universities The chapters give us access to students worlds how they construct experience and navigate their complex spheres on and off campus By engaging with students as knowledge producers we transform popular ways of thinking about race gender class sexuality disability and age as singular and natural markers of difference and diversity Rather than taking diversity as fixed and rooted in nature we explore how diversity is imagined and lived in particular contexts on and off campus

Homeschooling High School Shirley Erwee,2014-08-28 Prospective homeschoolers are parents looking for an alternative to the mainstream educational system for their offspring But homeschooling children at high school level strikes fear into even the most dedicated of homeschoolers They need information and answers to their questions And with the current educational and unemployment problems in South Africa young people need clear direction and guidance to help them achieve their goals In addition to exploring the popular ways to gaining a recognised matric certificate outside the formal school system Homeschooling High School also challenges readers to rethink their values particularly the value they place on certification and to consider some unconventional or alternative paths to success In a clearly presented format the book includes advice on legal matters identifying appropriate courses sourcing study material tips on entrepreneurship financing tertiary studies and the testimonies of successful homeshooled graduates Homeschooling High School is a comprehensive guide to plotting a path through high school and beyond      World Development Report 2024 World Bank,2024-08-01 Middle income countries are in a race against time Many of them have done well since the 1990s to escape low income levels and eradicate extreme poverty leading to the perception that the last three decades have been great for development But the ambition of the more than 100 economies with incomes per capita between US 1 100 and US 14 000 is to reach high income status within the next generation When assessed against this goal their record is discouraging Since the 1970s income per capita in the median middle income country has stagnated at less than a tenth of the US level With aging populations growing protectionism and escalating pressures to speed up the energy transition today s middle income economies face ever more daunting odds To become advanced economies despite the growing headwinds they will have to make miracles Drawing on the development experience and advances in economic analysis since the 1950s World Development Report 2024 identifies pathways for developing economies to avoid the middle income trap It points to the need for not one but two transitions for those at the middle income level the first from investment to infusion and the second from infusion to innovation Governments in lower middle income countries must drop the habit of repeating the same investment driven strategies and work instead to infuse modern technologies and successful business processes from around the world into their economies This requires reshaping large swaths of those economies into globally competitive suppliers of goods and services Upper middle income countries that have mastered infusion can accelerate the shift to innovation not just borrowing ideas from the global frontiers of technology but also beginning to push the frontiers outward This requires restructuring enterprise work and energy use once again with an even greater emphasis on economic freedom social mobility and political contestability Neither transition is automatic The handful of economies that made speedy transitions from middle to high income status have encouraged enterprise by disciplining powerful incumbents developed talent by rewarding merit and capitalized on crises to alter policies and institutions that no longer suit the purposes they were once designed to serve Today s middle income countries will have to do the same      Student Financing of Higher Education Donald

Heller,Claire Callender,2013-06-07 The financing of higher education is undergoing great change in many countries around the world In recent years many countries are moving from a system where the costs of funding higher education are shouldered primarily by taxpayers through government subsidies to one where students pay a larger share of the costs There are a number of factors driving these trends including A push for massification of higher education in the recognition that additional revenue streams are required above and beyond those funds available from governments in order to achieve higher participation rates Macroeconomic factors which lead to constraints on overall government revenues Political factors which manifest in demands for funding of over services thus restricting the funding available for higher tertiary education A concern that the returns to higher education accrue primarily to the individual rather than to society and thus students should bear more of the burden of paying for it This volume will help to contribute to an understanding of how these trends occur in various countries and regions around the world and the impact they have on higher education institutions students and society as a whole With contributions for the UK USA South Africa and China this vital new book gives a truly global picture of the rapidly changing situation      The Youth Dividend Jan H. Hofmeyr,2012      Higher Education ,2023-11-02

COVID wrought havoc on the world s economic systems Higher education did not escape the ravages brought on by the pandemic as institutions of higher education around the world faced major upheavals in their educational delivery systems Some institutions were prepared for the required transition to online learning Most were not Whether prepared or not educators rose to the challenge The innovativeness of educators met the challenges as digital learning replaced the face to face environment In fact some of the distance models proved so engaging that many students no longer desire a return to the face to face model As with all transitions some things were lost while others were gained This book examines practice in the field as institutions struggled to face the worst global pandemic in the last century The book is organized into four sections on Perils and Promises The State of Online Education Goals and Challenges of Online Learning and Innovations in the Age of COVID It presents various perspectives from educators around the world to illustrate the struggles and triumphs of those facing new challenges and implementing new ideas to empower the educational process These discussions shed light on the impact of the pandemic and the future of higher education post COVID Higher education has been forever changed and higher education as it once was may never return While many questions arise the achievements in meeting and overcoming the pandemic illustrate the creativity and innovativeness of educators around the world who inspired future generations of learners to reach new heights of accomplishment even in the face of the pandemic      Service-Learning Paradigms

Kenneth Colburn, Jr.,Rona Newmark,2007-07 The papers in this volume have been selected primarily from the presentations at the International Symposium on Service Learning cosponsored by Stellenbosch University in South Africa and the University of Indianapolis in the United States It aims to explore service learning paradigms for the 21st century New Paradigms for Theory Research and Curriculum Development New Paradigms for Teaching and Learning and Paradigms for Intercommunity and Interdisciplinary Collaboration This volume provides clear evidence that the paradigm of service learning has gone global and international Service learning has become the new coin of the academic and civic realm for issues of connecting teaching scholarship and community services      OECD Development Policy Tools Evidence-based Policy Making for Youth Well-being A Toolkit OECD,2017-10-17 With 1 2 billion people today s youth population aged 15 24 represents the largest cohort ever to enter the transition to adulthood Close to 90% of these young people live in developing countries and the numbers will practically double in the least developed countries      From School to Higher Education?

Michael Cosser,Jacques Du Toit,2002 This substantive report is essential reading for those involved in higher education planning and policy making      Going to University Case, Jennifer,Marshall, Delia,2018-02-09 Around the world more young people than ever before are attending university Student numbers in South Africa have doubled since democracy and for many families higher education is a route to a better future for their children But alongside the overwhelming demand for higher education questions about its purposes have intensified Deliberations about the curriculum culture and costing of public higher education abound from student activists academics parents civil society and policy makers We know from macro research that South African graduates generally have good employment prospects But little is known at a detailed level about how young people actually make use of their university experiences to craft their life courses And even less is known about what happens to those who drop out This accessible book brings together the rich life stories of 73 young people six years after they began their university studies It traces how going to university influences not only their employment options but also nurtures the agency needed to chart their own way and to engage critically with the world around them The book offers deep insights into the ways in which public higher education is both a private and public good and it provides significant conclusions pertinent to anyone who works in and cares about universities Going to University. The Influence of Higher Education on the Lives of Young South Africans Jennifer Case, Delia Marshall, 2018-02-09 Around the world more young people than ever before are attending university Student numbers in South Africa have doubled since democracy and for many families higher education is a route to a better future for their children But alongside the overwhelming demand for higher education questions about its purposes have intensified Deliberations about the curriculum culture and costing of public higher education abound from student activists academics parents civil society and policy makers We know from macro research that South African graduates generally have good employment prospects But little is known at a detailed level about how young people actually make use of their university experiences to craft their life courses And even less is known about what happens to those who drop out This accessible book brings together the rich life stories of 73 young people six years after they began their university studies It traces how going to university influences not only their employment options but also nurtures the agency needed to chart their own way and to engage critically with the world around them The book offers deep insights into the ways in which public higher education is both a private and public good and it provides significant conclusions pertinent to anyone who works in and cares about universities Knowledge Beyond Colour Lines Monwabisi K. Ralarala, Salochana Lorraine Hassan, Rajani Naidoo, 2021-05-25 Knowledge remains timely in education The need for academics to contemplate its relevance worth use and everything in between deems a continuous intellectual project rather than a conundrum to be solved This book takes the South African context by the horns as it challenges the often dormant and traditionalist ways in which higher education spaces see knowledge Through original research and the voices of academics and students this book argues for repurposing knowledge generation knowledge sharing and critical pedagogy so that more inclusive teaching and learning environments can be both imagined and sustained The contentious tensionalities that this creates for LoLT and SoTL in particular are unlocked so as to trouble the South African higher education landscape with the intent to proffer alternative pathways for a knowledge beyond colour lines Prof

Shan Simmonds PhD NWU This edited volume bristles with fresh scholarly approaches and insights of an emergent generation of engaged scholars grappling with the issues and problems of higher education in South Africa The issues dealt with here are varied and encompassing They are treated with intellectual delicacy and probing sensitivity articulacy informed data and bold conclusions They serve well Prof Kwesi Kwaa Prah Emeritus Professor of Sociology University of the Western Cape Founder of the Centre for Advanced Studies of African Society

Access and Equity ,2010-01-01 The massive expansion of higher education across all continents is one of the defining features of our century This volume examines two dimensions of this those of access and equity Building on the country studies undertaken by this group of Fulbright New Century Scholars the book offers a unique focus in its commitment to bring together an analysis of the theoretical literature on equity a focus on the methodological problems of measuring access and equity from a comparative perspective a comparative analysis of trends and policy developments set in a global framework and a comparative analysis of targeted initiatives which are currently in place in different societies The need to develop a comparative research programme addressing the question of measuring equity is noted The volume will be of interest to a broad range of readers policy makers and researchers at international national and local levels non governmental bodies higher education institutions and members of the public interested in these topics During a period of financial constraint the provision of access to higher education for disadvantaged groups and their retention in higher education remains a continuing and important issue
