Mass Authorship and the Rise of Self-Publishing Timothy Laquintano, 2016-10-15 In the last two decades digital technologies have made it possible for anyone with a computer and an Internet connection to rapidly and inexpensively self publish a book Once a stigmatized niche activity self publishing has grown explosively Hobbyists and professionals alike have produced millions of books circulating them through e readers and the web What does this new flood of books mean for publishing authors and readers Some lament the rise of self publishing because it tramples the gates and gatekeepers who once reserved publication for those who met professional standards Others tout authors new freedom from the narrow minded exclusivity of traditional publishing Critics mourn the death of the author fans celebrate the democratization of authorship Drawing on eight years of research and interviews with more than eighty self published writers Mass Authorship avoids the polemics instead showing how writers are actually thinking about and dealing with this brave new world Timothy Laquintano compares the experiences of self publishing authors in three distinct genres poker strategy guides memoirs and romance novels as well as those of writers whose self published works hit major bestseller lists He finds that the significance of self publishing and the challenge it presents to traditional publishing depend on the aims of authors the desires of their readers the affordances of their platforms and the business plans of the companies that provide those platforms In drawing a nuanced portrait of self publishing authors today Laquintano answers some of the most pressing questions about what it means to publish in the twenty first century How do writers establish credibility in an environment with no editors to judge quality How do authors police their copyrights online without recourse to the law How do they experience Amazon as a publishing platform And how do they find an audience when it sometimes seems there are more writers than readers

Ekanem,2016-10-17 If you have always dreamed of being a writer you can live your dreams by writing your own book and then self publishing Self publishing is the way that many writers today are choosing to get their book out to the public Self publishing today is not the same as it was years ago when you had to spend thousands of dollars to publish your book You can self publish a book for as little as 500 when you choose a good self publishing service online The first thing that you need to do is to know your genre The one rule of writing is that you should write about what you know If you have a specific genre that you read chances are that this is what you will want to write about Take a look at your interests and the type of books that you read before you decide on your genre Your book should never be just about making money it should be about something for which you have a passion There are many different genres available in both fiction and non fiction Before you start your book have a plan of what it will be about and the genre it will fill You need to have a specific genre when you are writing a book so that you will be able to market it properly Some books will cross genre lines such as paranormal and romance Some books will fit neatly into a specific genre It should be clear what the book is about to the reader so that they will be interested in what you have written enough to buy the book Most readers have types of books that they like to read and tend to stick to one or two genres If you are writing a non fiction book there are also genres You need to make your book stand out among the rest in a way that will set it apart from other books of the same genre
