Collecting for the Curriculum Amy J.

Catalano, 2015-09-28 If you're a librarian charged with collecting curriculum materials and children's literature to support the Common Core State Standards then this book the only one that offers explicit advice on collection development in curriculum collections is for you While there are many publications on the Common Core for school librarians and K-12 educators no such literature exists for curriculum librarians at the post secondary level This book fills that gap standing alone as a guide to collection development for curriculum librarians independent of the Common Core State Standards CCSS The book provides instruction and guidance to curriculum librarians who acquire and manage collections so you can develop a collection based on best practices The book begins with a primer on the CCSS and how curriculum librarians can support them Discussion of the Standards is then woven through chapters arranged by content area that share research based practices in curriculum development and instruction to guide you in curriculum selection Material types covered include games textbooks children's literature primary sources counseling and nonfiction Additional chapters cover the management of curriculum collections testing collections and instruction and reference as well as how to support and collect for special needs learners Current practices in collection development for curriculum materials librarians are also reviewed The book closes with a discussion of the future of curriculum materials

Learning at the Ends of Life Rachel Heydon, 2013-01-01

Intergenerational learning programs bring together skipped generations for instance elders and young children to promote expansive communication and identity options for participants as well as the forging of relationships between generations More specifically these programs help foster multimodal literacy for both generations encouraging new ways of seeing oneself and the world Learning at the Ends of Life illustrates the unique benefits of these trail blazing programs through more than seven years of research on developing and implementing intergenerational curricula in Canada and the United States The first formal and sustained work on intergenerational curricula and literacies Learning at the Ends of Life details the experiences of educators and participants in these programs Rachel M Heydon brings to life the particular possibilities of arts based multimodal curricula that draw on participants existing funds of knowledge and interests Providing practical suggestions for pedagogies and curricula Heydon helps educators rethink what is taken for granted in monogenerational learning sites and see new possibilities for learners and themselves
