andere over de moederlijke gemeenschap in het werk van de zwarte schrijfster Gloria Naylor Wisconsin Library Bulletin, 1928 A Southern Weave of Women Linda Tate, 1996 A Southern Weave of Women is one of the first sustained treatments of the generation women writers who came of age in the post World War II South as well as one of the first to situate southern literature fully within a multicultural context Home, Identity, and Mobility in Contemporary Diasporic Fiction Jopi Nyman, 2009-01-01 This innovative volume discusses the significance of home and global mobility in contemporary diasporic fiction written in English Through analyses of central diasporic and migrant writers in the United Kingdom and the United States the timely volume exposes the importance of home and its reconstruction in diasporic literature in the era of globalization and increasing transnational mobility Through wide ranging case studies dealing with a variety of black British and ethnic American writers Home Identity and Mobility in Contemporary Diasporic Fiction shows how new identities and homes are constructed in the migrants new homelands The volume examines how diasporic novels inscribe hybridity and multiplicity in formerly uniform spaces and subvert traditional understandings of nation citizenship and history Particular emphasis is on the ways in which diasporic fictions appropriate and transform traditional literary genres such as the Bildungsroman and the picaresque to explore the questions of migration and transformation The authors discussed include Caryl Phillips Jamal Mahjoub Mike Phillips Hari Kunzru Kamila Shamsie Benjamin Zephaniah Abdulrazak Gurnah Cynthia Kadohata Ana Castillo Diana Abu Jaber and Bharati Mukherjee The volume is of particular interest to all scholars and students of post colonial and ethnic literatures in English The Rotarian, 1951-05 Established in 1911 The Rotarian is the official magazine of Rotary International and is circulated worldwide Each issue contains feature articles columns and departments about or of interest to Rotarians Seventeen Nobel Prize winners and 19 Pulitzer Prize winners from Mahatma Ghandi to Kurt Vonnegut Jr have written for the magazine Dismemberment in the Fiction of Toni Morrison Jaleel Akhtar, 2014-06-19 Dismemberment in the Fiction of Toni Morrison is a multifaceted study of Toni Morrison's fiction It investigates racism and the concomitant experiences of dismemberment in Morrison's fiction from multiple perspectives including history psychology and culture Looking at dismemberment from multiple perspectives rather than the more generic and abstract expression of fragmentation likens the impact of racism on individuals to the splitting of bodies amputation phantom limbs and traumatic memories and in more concrete and visceral terms Morrison's art of story telling involves an interactive conversation from multiple perspectives demanding more attentive participation from her readers in deconstructing the meaning of her narratives Studying her fiction from multiple perspectives suggests various ways of examining the pernicious impact of racism which produces various forms of dismemberment in her characters This investigation does this without giving prominence to one perspective at the expense of other equally relevant modes of interpretation Morrison's depiction of the trauma of racism on the psyche of her characters and the concomitant experiences of dismemberment has its roots in the historical and social realities of African Americans The psychological impact of racism on Morrison's characters requires viewing through the lens of the historical and social realities that play a significant role. Morrison enacts racial alienation and dismemberment as complex processes; it is consequently important to look at her project from multiple perspectives. Examining the lived reality of African Americans from only one perspective ignores dismemberment in the light of the socio-political and historical realities of African American experience in the United States and entails reconsideration of the physical, historical, social, and psychological realities. This investigation argues for the importance of combining these historical and psychological as well as sociocultural analyses of Morrison's fiction in order to acquire a more rounded understanding of racism and its debilitating effects on the psyche. By situating Morrison's fiction within a variety of discourses, this study offers a multifaceted, highly interdisciplinary framework for a more rewarding analysis of her fiction.

Neighbor-Homes Megan Jeanette Myers, 2025-08-21. Neighbor Homes Julia Alvarez and Edwidge Danticat. Write Hispaniola and the Diaspora analyzes the work of two of the most acclaimed contemporary American and Caribbean authors for the first time in a single book. Extending beyond scholarly approaches to home as a theoretical construct, Neighbor Homes considers how Alvarez and Danticat inaugurate multiple spaces of belonging for their off and on island fictional characters for their diverse community of readers and for themselves. Revealing a more complex and complete understanding of these Hispaniola-rooted authors, the project places Alvarez and Danticat into conversation at a time when the construction of a border wall and racist immigration laws confirm increasing anti-Haitian sentiment in the Dominican Republic. Neighbor Homes incorporates correspondence between the two writers to extrapolate diverse narrative representations of Hispaniola and to highlight various themes central to their work and social justice platforms including family relationships, community building, neighbor aesthetics, statelessness, and border solidarity. Neighbor Homes will help interdisciplinary audiences read Danticat and Alvarez with a more critical eye so that they can more adeptly and profoundly understand Haiti, the Dominican Republic, and their respective diasporas. This important study is an essential read for students and scholars of literature and social justice, cultural studies, history, and politics, as well as Caribbean, Latinx, and African diaspora literatures.

Saturday Review of Literature, 1929. Home in British Working-Class Fiction Nicola Wilson, 2016-03-09. Home in British Working-Class Fiction offers a fresh take on British working-class writing that turns away from a masculinist work-based understanding of class in favour of home, gender, domestic labour, and the family kitchen. As Nicola Wilson shows, the history of the British working classes has often been written from the outside with observers looking into the world of the inhabitants. Here Wilson engages with the long cultural history of this gaze and asks how home is represented in the writing. of authors who come from a working class background Her book explores the depiction of home as a key emotional and material site in working class writing from the Edwardian period through to the early 1990s Wilson presents new readings of classic texts including The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists Love on the Dole and Saturday Night and Sunday Morning analyzing them alongside works by authors including James Hanley Walter Brierley Lewis Grassie Gibbon Buchi Emecheta Pat Barker James Kelman and the rediscovered ex mill girl novelist Ethel Carnie Holdsworth Wilson's broad understanding of working class writing allows her to incorporate figures typically ignored in this context as she demonstrates the importance of home's role in the making and expression of class feeling and identity
