The Haier Electronics Group Of China:

China's Industrial Policies and the Global Business Revolution Ling Liu, 2005-07-05 As China has blended market reforms with comprehensive industrial policies most research has focused on the national government's strategies for economic growth. However, one of the unique characteristics of industrial policy in China is that it involves government intervention at all levels from the political elite all the way down to village leaders. This book focuses on the domestic appliance industry and China's three major business groups in this area: Haier, Hisense, and Aucma. The Haier Group in particular is one of the most successful and competitive enterprises in China and is very well placed to compete globally as the Chinese economy becomes more integrated with the world trading system. This volume shows how industrial policy is formulated at the national level and implemented at the local level and examines how local government frequently intervenes in local enterprises' business strategy and management. Of practical importance, this book provides academics, business people, and policy makers with valuable insights into the development process and a concrete understanding of the challenges faced in the global business revolution by one of the world's most dynamic economies.

International Brand Management of Chinese Companies

Sandra Bell, 2008-03-29 China is certainly doing its best to keep the world mesmerized by its economic achievements. The Chinese economic growth story that began 30 years ago has, in terms of dynamics and duration, long since surpassed all those economic miracles which have brought Germany, Japan, and the South East Asian Tigers into the top league of the industrialized world. The rapid expansion of the Chinese economy has gone along with a fledgling reintegration of China into the global economic system. In the course of the last 30 years, China has become a major player in the global economy and today is on a trajectory towards even greater prominence. In recent years, the Chinese economy seems to have reached an important threshold line of economic development and global integration. In the first quarter century of reform and global opening, Chinese enterprises have been largely confined to a passive role in the global division of labor. Foreign enterprises, as the proprietors of greatly superior business models, production technologies, management models, as well as very competitively established brands, have been integrating Chinese players in their value chains and global operations. Lacking the necessary production technologies, products, as well as marketing knowledge to successfully address OECD consumers, Chinese enterprises have been hardly able to enter the global markets without such guidance. Now this constellation is changing.

The Chinese Entrepreneurship Way Julia Perez-Cerezo, 2013-10-07

China is the second largest economy in the world and it stands poised to become the largest. China's geopolitical power is also developing at a stunning pace. It has been predicted that China will have more impact on the world over the next 20 years than any other country. The world order as we have known it is changing and China is becoming its leader. But contrary to the belief that China's economic miracle is solely due to its government, the reality is that it has been fuelled by its people's pent-up ambition and entrepreneurial spirit. Private-owned companies account for about 60 percent of the country's gross domestic product (GDP) and about 75 percent of the country's jobs The real secret to the Chinese economy's outstanding development had most to do with the nature and attitude of the Chinese people This book is about models of Chinese entrepreneurship It tells the stories of fifteen women entrepreneurs but dealing with them just as entrepreneurs They have been chosen because in today's China women are closer to the junzi ideal of Confucius The book shows that Chinese entrepreneurs' good performance is based on principles and values shaped over the millennia It sheds light on the approaches and rationale of the entrepreneurial paths Chinese follow A striking feature of Chinese entrepreneurs is how they all seem to go with the flow of things So they are not afraid to face risks or to start all over again They do not panic when adversities arise for they know that success will always follow adversity For Chinese entrepreneurs the world is a place where anything is possible This makes them creative and able to persevere willing to try what for others may seem impossible or unrealistic They are brimming with a unique inner strength self motivation and self control Chinese entrepreneurs have a tremendous emotional intelligence and are experts at generating new ideas and strategies They regard their employees and the building of an internal corporate culture as the soul of their business For them a crisis is an opportunity to improve and learn to focus on working hard and being efficient today in order to succeed tomorrow Chinese entrepreneurs operate in the Chinese Paradigm a paradigm which overlaps very little with our Western paradigm But while the Chinese are very familiar with Western modes of business we Westerners are unaware of how they operate This book is aimed to shine some light on this

Communications and Information in China Xing Fan,2001 Communications and Information in China is a focused analysis of the four fundamentals of the Chinese communications and information sector dynamic landscape which includes most importantly status trends directions initiatives and characteristics of the Chinese IT and communications industries policy and regulatory framework which represents a very hard to understand mish mash of the Chinese political and regulatory structure that has significant impact on where how and what Chinese IT related industries are heading to ten most crucial regulatory and strategic issues that derive from China's domestic political economic and technological realities and controversies and foreign involvement which covers high stakes critical challenges and contextual forces that international companies face In depth discussion also digs into what implications China's telecommunications industry reform and its WTO accession will have on foreign players who are involved in China's enormous but complex IT and communications market Enterprising China Linda Yueh,2011-07-07

This book analyzes the transformation of business development and the marketization of industry in China over the past thirty years within a complex framework of legal political and economic reform aims Industrial Dynamics in China and India M. Ohara,M. Vijayabaskar,H. Lin,2011-09-20 This book is one of the first fully fledged studies to examine the next world class industrial leaders emerging from China and India exploring the domestic and international factors that have led to their rise and comparing their experiences with other East Asian late comers such as Japan Lifelong Learning in the Mechanical and Electrical Engineering Industries ,2002 Labour in a Global World T. Nichols,S. Cam,2005-06-10

This book gets behind much generality about globalisation to examine the production of relatively familiar commodities such as refrigerators and ovens in different countries. By considering a range of countries (China, Taiwan, and South Korea, South Africa, Brazil, and Turkey), it makes a substantive contribution to the understanding of the diffusion of management methods, the role of the state in employee relations, the nature of trade unionism, and the impact of social structure on production relations.

Building Consumer Good Brands in China Judith Frey, 2004-04-29. Inhaltsangabe. Abstract. Against the backdrop of the Western world's saturated and fatigued consumer goods markets, the evolving of China's new consumerism is probably among the most thrilling developments of our days. While the run of foreign companies for China is going on uninterrupted, and many are still struggling with rudimentary difficulties like distribution or production planning, the market is already entering the next stage of competition: the competition of brands. This thesis lays out how foreign Western consumer good brands need to be developed in the P.R. China to ensure long-term market success and a sustainable strong standing with the Chinese consumers. In a first step, this author shortly analyses the situation of existing Chinese and foreign brands in terms of overall market conditions, market trends, domestic or foreign brand dominance, and factors for success or failure. A second step specifies relevant urban Chinese consumer groups according to socio-demographic factors.

the consumers general living conditions lifestyles and perspectives A preface on the Chinese system of values delivers the background for further understanding of this paragraph Subsequently the core part of this thesis is concerned with brand positioning branding and brand communication as integral elements of brand building It introduces modern status quo concepts from Western brand building practice for each element With reference to the findings from the preceding brand and consumer analyses this author discusses in detail how companies can implement and adapt these elements and concepts to the requirements of the Chinese context Promising options as well as possible challenges and risks are pointed out accordingly Relevant examples from the current brand scene in China such as Wall s Lenovo BMW Haier or Samsung illustrate these recommendations and suggest creative starting points for further exploration Major findings of this thesis are that Western brands need to maintain strong symbolic values and that comprehensive brand building based on brand substance and personality may be the key for sustainable success Particular focus is to be on durable close brand consumer relationships A main challenge for Western brands will be the adaptation of brand communication to the local consumer requirements Furthermore this thesis supports the assumption that the Chinese market must be broken up into regional markets and that the
