English Edition* Jane Austen, 2025-03-19 Headstrong confident young and very beautiful Emma Woodhouse is one of the great female characters in world literature Seemingly only concerned with the romance of others she decides to inject a little more zest into her friends' love lives But her efforts fail and lead to the strangest of entanglements It is only in the end that things take a turn for the better Jane Austen's last novel published in 1817 one year before her death still captivates us with its brilliant language its incisiveness and the wonderful wit of its dialogues I am going to take a heroine whom no one

Victorian Cosmopolitanism and English Catholicity in the Mid-Century Novel Teresa Huffman Traver, 2019-11-20 Victorian Cosmopolitanism and English Catholicity in the Mid Century Novel argues that the Creedal doctrines of the communion of saints and the holy Catholic Church provided Victorian novelists both Roman Catholic and Protestant with a means of exploring religious forms of cosmopolitanism Building on research exploring the divisions between Roman Catholicism and Protestantism in Victorian literature and culture Teresa Huffman Traver considers the extent to which anti Catholicism domesticity and national identity were linked Huffman Traver connects this research with cosmopolitan theory and analyzes how the conception of Catholicity could be used to reach beyond national identity towards a transnational community Investigating the idea of a rooted cosmopolitanism grounded in the local and limited in scope this Pivot book offers a new angle on how religion domesticity and national identity were constructed in nineteenth century British culture
