The Magic Pot Ishmael Odeen Ishmael, Odeen Ishmael, 2010 This book comprises a collection of popular folk stories from Guyana and other countries of the Caribbean region The starring character in all of them is Nansi whose exploits form part of the folklore of these countries Nansi the starring character in all the stories is also popularly known as Anansi But in Guyana and some other Caribbean countries Nansi the shortened form of this name is usually preferred Nansi who is a spider but who sometimes takes the qualities or form of a man or even half man and half spider is originally the chief trickster among the Ashanti and Akan peoples of West Africa. When some of these peoples were forcibly brought to the Caribbean and the American continent as slaves from the sixteenth to the nineteenth centuries they also brought with them the tales of the exploits of Nansi who was and still is variably regarded as a folk hero, a cunning trickster and also sometimes as a fool. The stories in this book are no different to the ones told in West Africa or other parts of the Caribbean and the south east United States even though the plots and the characters involved may vary slightly. They certainly provide tangible evidence that much of the oral traditions of people of African origin in the Americas remain intact despite the historical trauma caused by centuries of slavery. Nansi is always outwitting the forest creatures, humans, his own family, the community in which he lives and sometimes even deities. His character assumes various patterns. In some cases he is regarded as wise but he can be greedy, cunning, gluttonous, stupid and dishonest. Despite these varying characteristics Nansi is generally admired for the manner in which he outwits others. In Guyana and other countries of the English speaking Caribbean particularly in rural areas the exploits of Nansi are related by older people as a form of entertainment at wakes and other community gatherings. The stories are now no longer exclusive to people of West African ancestry since people of all ethnic origins in these countries regard Nansi as their folk hero as well. Interestingly all stories told at these informal community gatherings are regarded as Nansi stories even though Nansi may not be a character in any of them. The tales of Nansi are very imaginative and they are so embedded in the minds of people of Guyana and the Caribbean that sometimes any story that is far fetched and hard to believe is dismissed as a Nansi story.

Made in Canada, Read in Spain Pilar

Somacarrera, 2013-08-21. Made in Canada, Read in Spain is an edited collection of essays on the impact, diffusion and translation of English Canadian literature in Spain. Given the size of the world's Spanish speaking population, some 350 million people, and the importance of the Spanish language in global publishing, it appeals to publishers, cultural agents and translators as well as to Canadianists and Translation Studies scholars. By analyzing more than 100 sources of online and print reviews, this volume covers a wide range of areas and offers an ambitious scope that goes from the institutional side of the Spanish-Anglo-Canadian exchange to issues on the insertion of CanLit in the Spanish curriculum, from nation branding, translation and circulation of Canadian authors in autonomous communities such as Catalonia to the official acknowledgement of some authors by the Spanish literary system. Margaret Atwood and Leonard Cohen were awarded the prestigious Prince of Asturias prize in 2008 and 2011 respectively.
