The Good The Bad And The Ugali:

Anglophone African Detective Fiction 1940-2020 Matthew J. Christensen, 2024 Providing a survey of Anglophone African detective fiction from the late 1940s to the present day this study traces its history both as a literary form and a mode of critical exploration of the fraught sovereignties of the African state and its citizens Since the late 1940s African writers including Cyprian Ekwensi Arthur Maimane Adaora Lily Ulasi Hilary Ng weno Unity Dow Parker Bilal and Angela Makholwa have published over 200 murder mysteries police procedurals spy thrillers and other fictional narratives of investigation and discovery in English language newspapers magazines and novels Distributed widely across the continent s diverse cultural and political geographies these texts share aesthetic characteristics and thematic preoccupations that reflect transnational networks of production circulation and influence Anglophone African Detective Fiction 1940 2020 surveys this literary history and examines how African writers have repeatedly harnessed the detective story to interrogate postcolonial realities of selfhood and the state It argues that African writers have turned the detective story into a highly productive while at the same time suspense filled and entertaining mode of social and political critique first of colonialism and the independence era and latterly of neoliberal governance Offering an overview of paradigmatic texts from Ghana to Kenya and Sudan to South Africa the book traces the contours of the history of Anglophone African detective fiction that is at once a cultural history of a uniquely African assessment of the ongoing problematics of sovereignty and decolonization

Diet of Worms Cheptepkeny Korir, 2011-12-29 Prison reformation has been a controversial and politically charged issue in Kenya In the past it has elicited such legendary and emotional responses as What reforms Prisons are not supposed to be five star hotels Recently however there has been a greater consensus between the public sector and the civic society in Kenya than has ever in the past of the need to revisit the human rights of inmates in various Kenyan prisons Since 2003 a number of ground breaking reforms have been introduced in Kenyan prisons and more reforms seem to be on the way Jacqueline Korir in this book takes a serious and despassionate look into a single variable the quality of catering in Kenyan prisons Her findings were both shocking and challenging The food was lacking in both nutritive value as well aesthetic appeal The site of food samples was only reminiscent of a grotesque meaning of the famous Council in Church History The Diet of Worms This book grounded in empirical data analysis by hard statistics and backed by rare photographs from inside Kenyan prisons serves as an eye opener to both the prison reformists as well as students and teachers of African sociology and institutional catering all over the world

Popular Media in Kenyan History George Ogola, 2017-02-17 The book examines popular fiction columns a dominant feature in Kenyan newspapers published in the twentieth century and examines their historical and cultural impact on Kenyan politics The book interrogates how popular cultural forms such as popular fiction engage with and subject the polity to constant critique through informal but widely recognized cultural forms of censure The book further explores the ways we see and experience how the African subaltern through the everyday negotiate their rights and obligations with the self society and the state Through these columns and their writers the book examines the tensions that characterize such relationships how the formal and informal interpenetrate how the past and present are reconciled and how the local and transnational collide but also collude in the making of the Kenyan identity The Filipino Mind Leonardo N.
