The Ideology Of Genre:

The Ideology of Genre Thomas O. Beebee, 1994 In a series of comparative essays on a range of texts embracing both high and popular culture from the early modern era to the contemporary period The Ideology of Genre counters both formalists and advocates of the if genres exist on the other hand then they exist not as essences but as differences and thus those places within and between texts where genres collide reveal the connections between generic status interpretive strategy ideology and the use value of language

In Lady Audley's Shadow Saverio Tomaiuolo, 2010-10-05 This book is devoted to Mary Elizabeth Braddon's complex relationship with the three main Victorian literary genres the Gothic the Detective and the Realist novel using Braddon's bestselling sensation fiction Lady Audley's Secret as a starting point

Music, Structure, Thought: Selected Essays James Hepokoski, 2017-07-05 Among the most original and provocative musicological writers of his generation James Hepokoski has elaborated new paradigms of inquiry for both music history and music theory Advocating fundamental shifts of methodological reorientation within the quest for potential musical meanings his work spans both disciplines and offers substantial challenges for each At its core is the conviction that a close study of musical genres procedures and structures those qualities of a composition that are specifically musical is essential to any responsible hermeneutic enterprise Selected from writings from 1984 to 2008 this collection of essays provides a generous introduction to the author's most innovative and influential work on a wide variety of topics musicological methodology issues of staging and performance Italian opera program music and exemplary studies of individual pieces

The Films of Konrad Wolf Larson Powell, 2020 This is the first book in any language on the films of Konrad Wolf 1925 1982 East Germany's greatest filmmaker and puts Wolf in a larger European filmic and historical context

Recognizing the Stranger Kasper Bro Larsen, 2008-04-30 Recognizing the Stranger is the first monographic study of recognition scenes and motifs in the Gospel of John The recognition type scene anagnorisis was a common feature in ancient drama and narrative highly valued by Aristotle as a touching moment of truth e.g. in Oedipus tragic self discovery and Odysseus happy homecoming The book offers a reconstruction of the conventions of the genre and argues that it is one of the most recurrent and significant literary forms in the Gospel When portraying Jesus as the divine stranger from heaven the Gospel employs and transforms the formal and ideological structures of the type scene in order to show how Jesus' true identity can be recognized behind the half mask of his human appearance

Another Frank Capra Leland Poague, 1994 Another Frank Capra offers a new interpretation of the great Hollywood director beyond the patriotic sentimentalist or the cynical opportunist that he has been taken for Often cast as a cinematic simpleton or primitive Capra's exploitation of the stylistic and narrative resources of cinema was in fact extremely self-conscious and adventurous in ways typical of artistic modernism His modernism is also evident in his repeated and strong identification with female characters Informed by recent work in genre theory and feminist psychology Another Frank Capra shows Capra to be a proto-feminist director whose feminism has been entirely neglected by previous critics

Elements of Sonata Theory James Hepokoski, Warren Darcy, 2011-02-11 Elements of Sonata Theory is a comprehensive rethinking of the basic principles of sonata form in the decades around 1800 This foundational study outlines a new up to date paradigm for understanding the compositional choices found in the instrumental works of Haydn Mozart Beethoven sonatas chamber music symphonies overtures and concertos

Film Genre Reader IV Barry Keith Grant, 2012-12-01 From reviews of the third edition Film Genre Reader III lives up to the high expectations set by its predecessors providing an accessible and relatively comprehensive look at genre studies The anthology s consideration of the advantages and challenges of genre studies as well as its inclusion of various film genres and methodological approaches presents a pedagogically useful overview Scope Since 1986 Film Genre Reader has been the standard reference and classroom text for the study of genre in film with more than 25 000 copies sold Barry Keith Grant has again revised and updated the book to reflect the most recent developments in genre study This fourth edition adds new essays on genre definition and cycles action movies science fiction and heritage films along with a comprehensive and updated bibliography The volume includes more than thirty essays by some of film s most distinguished critics and scholars of popular cinema including Charles Ram rez Berg John G Cawelti Celestino Deleyto David Desser Thomas Elsaesser Steve Neale Thomas Schatz Paul Schrader Vivian Sobchack Janet Staiger Linda Williams and Robin Wood

The Rhetoric and Ideology of Genre Richard M. Coe, Lorelei Lingard, Tatiana Teslenko, 2002 This book takes up issues of current concern in composition studies sociolinguistics and ESL issues concerning academic literacy critical literacy expressive versus cognitive approaches to the teaching of writing and the like It does so in a practical experiential way drawing on events in classrooms in universities in South Africa and the United States The contrast between the South African context and the American as well as their surprising parallels highlight certain questions concerning the teaching of literacy in a dramatic way so that theory and practice are brought together In contrast to writing programs that follow a textbook or a planned sequence of study the authors describe a narrative pedagogy that encourages students to find a direction and choose activities suggested by their own concerns and ongoing lives Publisher

Labor and Desire Paula Rabinowitz, 2000-11-09 This critical historical and theoretical study looks at a little known group of novels written during the 1930s by women who were literary radicals Arguing that class consciousness was figured through metaphors of gender Paula Rabinowitz challenges the conventional wisdom that feminism as a discourse disappeared during the decade She focuses on the ways in which sexuality and maternity reconstruct the classic proletarian novel to speak about both the working class woman and the radical female intellectual Two well known novels bracket this study Agnes Smedley's Daughters of Earth 1929 and Mary McCarthy's The Company She Keeps 1942 In all Rabinowitz surveys more than forty novels of the period many largely forgotten Discussing these novels in the contexts of literary radicalism and of women's literary tradition she reads them as both cultural history and cultural theory Through a consideration of the novels as a genre Rabinowitz is able to theorize about the interrelationship of class and gender in American culture Rabinowitz shows that these novels generally dismissed as marginal by scholars of the literary and political cultures of the 1930s are in fact integral to the study of American fiction produced during the decade Relying on recent feminist scholarship she reformulates the history of literary radicalism to demonstrate the significance of these women writers and to provide a deeper understanding of their work for twentieth century American cultural studies in general

New Perspectives on Arabian Nights Wen-chin Ouyang, Geert Jan van Gelder, 2014-02-04 Adopting a multi disciplinary approach this comparative study of a selection of The Arabian Nights stories in a cross cultural context brings together a number of disciplines and subject areas to examine the workings of narrative It predominantly focuses on the ways in which the Arabian Nights have transformed as its stories have travelled across historical eras cultures genres and media Departing from the familiar approaches of influence and textual studies this book locates its central inquiry in the theoretical questions surrounding the workings of ideology genre and genre ideology in shaping and transforming stories The ten essays included in this volume respond to a general question what can the transformation of Nights stories in their travels tell us about narrative and storytelling and their function in a particular culture Following a Nights story in its travels from past to present from Middle East to Europe and from literature to film the book engages in close comparative analyses of ideological variations found in a variety of texts These analyses allow new modes of reading texts and make it possible to breach new horizons for thinking about narrative This Book was previously published as a special issue of Middle Eastern Literatures entitled Ideological Variations and Narrative Horizons New Perspectives on Arabian Nights

Hitchcock's Films Revisited Robin Wood, 2002 When Hitchcock's Films was first published it quickly became known as a new kind of book on film and as a necessary text in the growing body of Hitchcock criticism This revised edition of Hitchcock's Films Revisited includes a substantial new preface in which Wood reveals his personal history as a critic including his coming out as a gay man his views on his previous critical work and how his writings his love of film and his personal life and have remained deeply intertwined through the years This revised edition also includes a new chapter on Marnie
