Myfan Jordan,2023-10-04 This book explores two unique studies of women s economic behaviour during Australia s COVID 19 crisis The first describes the care frontline in the feminised labor sectors of healthcare and education identifying extreme workload pressures deteriorating conditions and a shockingly high incidence of workplace bullying including women targeting other women workers The author argues workplace cultures are almost inevitable in Australia s advanced neoliberal economy where a patri colonial legacy continues to devalue and under resource women's work. In contrast, a second study of voluntary care provisioning taking place in hyperlocal digital sharing networks over the same period identifies very different economic behaviours. Here women and occasionally men instead engage in care full labors of gifting, collective provisioning and hive mind problem solving that align with the gift economy models seen in degrowth theory. This book will interest scholars in gender studies, sociology and economics, particularly those interested in care work, the gift economy and women's labor.

Transformative Intercultural Global Education Barreto, Isabel María Gómez, Roman Etxebarrieta, Gorka, 2024-05-13. In this tumultuous world characterized by unprecedented migratory movements, societal evolution intersects with an increasing diversity that presents profound challenges. The global landscape is marked by 33 armed conflicts in 2022 alone, resulting in forced displacement and an exceeding count of 100 million displaced individuals worldwide. The traditional understanding of migration as a response to individualized prosecution has expanded to encompass survival migration incorporating environmental change and livelihood collapse. This paradigm shift necessitates a reevaluation of human rights and a compelling call for transformative global and intercultural education to address the vulnerabilities, inequities and discrimination faced by displaced and native youth. Transformative Intercultural Global Education is a project aimed at shedding light on educational inequalities stemming from race, migration, forced displacement and cultural factors. Through innovative empirical results, theoretical frameworks and educational practices, this book seeks to contribute to quality education and subsequently a more sustainable society. The objective is to provide educators with proposals that strengthen educational policies and programs aligned with global citizenship, fostering sensitivity, critical thinking and commitment towards respectful and tolerant coexistence. The research outcomes are designed to encourage actions that promote equity, social justice and the sustainable development of a global society.

Psychology of Retention Melinde Coetzee, Ingrid L. Potgieter, Nadia Ferreira, 2018-08-30. This book offers a contemporary review of talent retention from the viewpoint of human resource management and industrial organisational psychology. With a practical and relevant perspective, it enriches critical knowledge and insight in the psychology of talent retention. It offers interpretation of difficult factors facing organisations such as the conceptualisation of talent, the forecasting of talent demand and supply, external and internal factors that influence talent attraction, development and retention, the alignment between talent management and business strategy. Also covered is the implementation of human resource practices and strategies in response to the needs of different organisational contexts and workforce characteristics. The chapter contributions will not only enrich knowledge and insight in the complex phenomenon of talent retention but also advance new, original ways of thinking and researching this critically important area of inquiry. The book is intended for graduate students and researchers as an overview of the topic of talent retention; practitioners will also find it informative.

Shifting Categories of Work Lisa Herzog,Bénédicte Zimmermann,2022-12-30 What do human beings do when they work how is work organized and what are its multidimensional economic social political biographical ecological effects We cannot answer these questions without drawing on the numerous categories that we use to describe work such as skilled or unskilled work domestic work or wage labor gig work or platform work Such categories are not merely theoretical labels as they also have practical effects But where do these categories come from what are their histories how do they differ between countries and how are they evolving Shifting Categories of Work asks these questions illuminating the many ways in which our societies categorize work Written by sociologists philosophers historians and anthropologists as well as management and legal scholars the contributions in this volume contrast different cultural practices and frameworks of categorizing work across different countries Organized around the three axes of un organized work in visible work and in valuable work this book shows how ways of categorizing work express but also recreate lines of privilege and disadvantage challenging our preconceived notions of what work is and what it could be as it invites us to rethink the categories we use for understanding the work we do and hence to some extent ourselves
