Classics although the only ones properly so called were built after autumn 1994 these models laid the foundations for the following generations of Land Rover's world acclaimed Range Rover. Many of these early Range Rovers fell on hard times as they passed on to third fourth and subsequent owners. Many were butchered beyond recognition when converted into off road playthings. But now more than a quarter of a century since the last examples were built it is no surprise that enthusiasts have begun to restore examples to their original condition. This has created a demand for accurate information about what that original condition actually was. James Taylor has trawled painstakingly through original documents and examined original vehicles to put together all the known facts in one place. This guide will be essential reading for everyone with an interest in restoring or running one of these iconic models that became the foundation of today's Land Rover marque. BMC 1100 and 1300 James Taylor, 2015-07-31 The British Motor Corporation's 1100 and 1300 model range was amongst the most successful in the Corporation's history selling more than 2.1 million of all types between its introduction in 1962 and its demise in 1974. World wide it was sold under eight different marque names and in two door saloon four door saloon two door estate and five door hatchback forms and very nearly as a van as well. In Britain it was the country's best selling car between 1962 and 1971 being beaten just once in 1967 by the Ford Cortina. BMC 1100 and 1300 looks at the design and development of a model range that at the time confirmed BMC as a pioneer of new automotive ideas and had a profound impact on other manufacturers. It covers not only the full standard model range but special conversions cars built abroad and owning and running the cars today. Superbly illustrated with 150 colour photographs.
