

■ General Operation

 Warning
 Disassembly prohibited	Never disassemble, modify or repair. This can result in electric shock, fire and injury. For repairs, call your sales distributor.
 Prohibited	- Never remove the front cover when power is on or open door if enclosed in a cabinet. The unit contains many high voltage parts and contact with them will result in electric shock. - Don't stick your fingers into openings such as cable wiring hole and cooling fan covers. This can result in electric shock or other injury. - Don't place or insert any kind of object into the inverter (electrical wire cuttings, rods, wires etc.). This can result in electric shock or fire. - Do not allow water or any other fluid to come in contact with the inverter. This can result in electric shock or fire.
 Mandatory	- Turn power on only after attaching the front cover or closing door if enclosed in a cabinet. If power is turned on without the front cover attached or closing door if enclosed in a cabinet, this can result in electric shock or other injury. - If the inverter begins to emit smoke or an unusual odor, or unusual sounds, immediately turn power off. If the equipment is continued in operation in such a state, the result may be fire. Call your local sales agency for repairs. - Always turn power off if the inverter is not used for long periods of time since there is a possibility of malfunction caused by leaks, dust and other material. If power is left on with the inverter in that state, it may result in fire.
