Tourism Memorandum For Phase 2:

Qualitative Methods in Tourism Research Wendy Hillman, Kylie Radel, 2018-01-05 This volume seeks to expose and illustrate new approaches and thinking in qualitative methods that are being developed and implemented in tourism research. The contributions bring together various qualitative methods and approaches while also providing suggestions for the juxtaposition of qualitative and quantitative methods in mixed methods research. The book has been written with a cross disciplinary approach which provides an insight into the art of research development from business sociology and tourism perspectives. The chapters provide readers with a context and practical application examples for each method. They present a distinctive opportunity for social researchers from a range of disciplines in particular tourism to examine how to adapt the wide variety of qualitative approaches to their particular research needs.

Tourism and Poverty Reduction Anna Spenceley, Dorothea Meyer, 2017-10-02 Over the past decade there have been an increasing number of publications that have analysed and critiqued the potential of tourism to be a mechanism for poverty reduction in less economically developed countries (LEDCs). This book showcases work by established and emerging researchers that provides new thinking and tests previously made assumptions providing an essential guide for students, practitioners and academics. This book advances our understanding of the changes and ways forward in the field of sustainable tourism development. Five main themes are illustrated throughout the book: 1. measuring impacts of tourism on poverty; 2. the need to evaluate whether interventions that aim to reduce poverty are effective; 3. how unbalanced power relations and weak governance can undermine efforts; 4. the importance of the private sector's use of pro-poor business practices; and 5. the value of using multidisciplinary and multi-method research approaches. Furthermore, the book shows that academic research findings can be used practically in destinations and how practitioners can benefit from sharing their experiences with academic scholars. This book was based on a special issue and various articles from the Journal of Sustainable Tourism.

Committee on Foreign Relations, 2009. Tourism Collaboration and Partnerships Bill Bramwell, Bernard Lane, 2000-05-02 This book explores the concept, techniques and implications of establishing stakeholder collaboration in sustainable tourism. The importance of involving a wide range of stakeholders in tourism planning and management is increasingly recognised. This reflects a move to less top-down, more decentralised and more inclusive forms of governance in tourism and in other policy fields. Twenty-two leading researchers and practitioners from around the world contribute their views and expertise to this pioneering volume. Case studies examining key issues are drawn from Europe, North and South America, Australia and the Arctic. Section 1 examines the processes, patterns and typologies involved. Specific concerns addressed include stakeholder interaction and negotiation, boundary issues in regional and international partnerships and stages of collaborative development. Section 2 evaluates the effects of politics and power on the practice of collaboration. Specific topics here include the changing roles of the state in tourism governance regime.
