Tout Est Possible:

Avec du coeur, tout est possible ! Sarah Hébert, Hugues Marchat, 2013-10-11 Le journal de bord d'une aventure hors du commun. Un témoignage touchant et sincère de l'aventure extraordinaire d'une athlète hors du commun. Cet ouvrage montre que l'on peut faire de ses rêves une réalité. Au fil des pages, la jeune championne décrit avec simplicité le chemin de vie qui l'a conduite jusqu'au milieu de l'Atlantique seule sur sa planche voile. Force de caractère et motivation, d'engagement et doutes, réussites comme échecs de cette pop é passionnante et courageuse y sont confiés et partagés sans ambages. Au-delà de l'exploit technique et humain, comment avec authenticité c'est aussi un véritable audit d'un projet extraordinaire qui est proposé, comment se préparer. Quelle équipe choisir. Comment parer aux aléas, affronter les difficultés. Comment travailler ensemble. Quel bilan dresser. Autant de thèmes parmi beaucoup d'autres analysés de façon détaillée et commentés par un professionnel. Avec une préface de Luc Alphand.

Einstein, Picasso Arthur I. Miller, 2008-08-01 The most important scientist of the twentieth century and the most important artist had their periods of greatest creativity almost simultaneously and in remarkably similar circumstances. This fascinating parallel biography of Albert Einstein and Pablo Picasso as young men examines their greatest creations. Picasso's Les Femmes d'Alger and Einstein's special theory of relativity. Miller shows how these breakthroughs arose not only from within their respective fields but from larger currents in the intellectual culture of the times. Ultimately, Miller shows how Einstein and Picasso in a deep and important sense were both working on the same problem.

L'origine qui vient Guilhem Antier, 2010 Interfaces Between the Oral and the Written Flora Veit-Wild, Alain Ricard, 2005 In the African context, there exists the myth that orality means tradition. Written and oral verbal art are often regarded as dichotomies, one excluding the other. While orature is confused with tradition, literature is ascribed to modernity. Furthermore, local languages are ignored and literature is equated with writing in foreign languages. The contributions in this volume take issue with such preconceptions and explore the multiple ways in which literary and oral forms interrelate and subvert each other, giving birth to new forms of artistic expression. They emphasize the local agency of the African poet and writer which resists the global commodification of literature through the international bestseller lists of the cultural industry. The first section traces the movement from oral to written texts, which in many cases coincides with a switch from African to European languages. But as the essays in the section on New Literary Languages make clear, in other cases a true philological work is accomplished in the African language to create a new written and literary medium. Through the mixing of languages in the cities, such as the Sheng spoken in Kenya or the bilinguality of a writer such as Cheikh Aliou Ndao, Senegal, new idioms for literary expressions evolve. The use of new media technology or music stimulates the emergence of new genres, such as Taarab in East Africa, radio poetry in Yoruba and Hausa or Rap in the Senegal, as is shown in the section on Forms of New Orality. It is a great achievement of this second volume of Versions and Subversions in African

Baudelaire's Poetic Patterns Peter Broome, 2023-11-27 This major new study of Baudelaire is a journey into the secret language of Les Fleurs du Mal the expressive pliabilitys of its verse forms and syntax the fluctuations of its rhythms its significant sonorities its metaphorical figures and dynamic image patterns its network of nerves and trigger points its shifting underground of parallels and contrasts analogies and antitheses Through a strategic selection of poems constituting a constellation a formal pattern of mutually illuminating parts the analysis aims to show that form and theme are indissoluble that each movement in the texture of the verse each pulse each rise and fall each intensification or release not only aids and abets the thrust of the poet's inspiration but is moulding and in the end creating the subtleties of sense which cannot exist but in the weft and web of the breathing evolving text It is a study which prioritizes the individual poem then the poem within an expanding formation of poems then Baudelaire within and beyond that formation an infini dans le fini It is also an enquiry into what makes poetry as well as a provocative contribution to the ongoing debate on the nature of criticism
