Writing Arizona, 1912-2012 Kim Engel-Pearson, 2017-09-28 From the year of Arizona's statehood to its centennial in 2012 narratives of the state and its natural landscape have revealed and reconfigured the state's image Through official state and federal publications newspapers novels poetry autobiographies and magazines Kim Engel Pearson examines narratives of Arizona that reflect both a century of Euro American dominance and a diverse and multilayered cultural landscape Examining the written record at twenty five year intervals Writing Arizona 1912 2012 shows us how the state was created through the writings of both its inhabitants and its visitors from pioneer reminiscences of settling the desert to modern stories of homelessness and from early twentieth century Native American as told to autobiographies to those written in Natives own words in the 1970s and 1980s Weaving together these written accounts Engel Pearson demonstrates how government leaders and boosters promotion of tourism often at the expense of minority groups and the environment was swiftly complicated by concerns about ethics representation and conservation Word by word story by story Engel Pearson depicts an Arizona whose narratives reflect celebrations of diversity and calls for conservation yet at the same time a state whose constitution declares only English words official She reveals Arizona to be constructed understood and inhabited through narratives a state of words as changeable as it is timeless

Unsettling the Literary West Nathaniel Lewis, 2003-01-01 The test of western literature has invariably been Is it real Is it accurate Authentic The result is a standard anything but literary as Nathaniel Lewis observes in this ambitious work a wholesale rethinking of the critical terms and contexts and thus of the very nature of western writing Why is western writing virtually missing from the American literary canon but a frequent success in the marketplace The skewed status of western literature

Lewis contends can be directly attributed to the strategies of the region's writers and these strategies depend consistently on the claim of authenticity. A perusal of western American authorship reveals how these writers effectively present themselves as accurate and reliable recorders of real places, histories, and cultures but not as stylists or inventors. The imaginative qualities of this literature are thus obscured in the name of authentic reproduction. Through a study of a set of western authors and their relationships to literary and cultural history, Lewis offers a reconsideration of the deceptive and often undervalued history of western American literature. With unequivocal admiration for the literature under scrutiny, Lewis exposes the potential for startling new readings once western writing is freed from its insistence on a questionable authenticity. His book sets out a broader system of inquiry that points writers and critics of western literature in the direction of a new and truly sustaining literary tradition.

Supporting the Military-Affiliated Learner Victoria

McDermott, Leandra Hinojosa Hernández, Amy R. May, 2020-12-10. Supporting the Military-Affiliated Learner: Communication Approaches to Military Pedagogy and Education challenges the academic community to 1) reevaluate how they support military-affiliated learners (MALs) and address how the military-civilian academic divide causes disparities and barriers to MAL academic achievement and retention and 2) implement programs and develop strategies to facilitate equitable academic integration from application to graduation. With contributions from veterans, military spouses, and communication educators, this book explicates barriers that MALs face when trying to transition to navigate and succeed in higher education. This edited volume explores the impact of the diversity and nuances of MAL identities on their experiences in higher education, promotes military competence by providing opportunities for educators and support staff to learn about potential barriers and promote best practices for connecting with MALs, and validating their lived experiences. It examines how technology, computer-mediated communication may be used to facilitate community building and promote connectedness for MALs within face-to-face and digital spheres.

The Writing Center as Cultural and Interdisciplinary Contact Zone Randall W. Monty, 2016-05-05

Writing centers are complex. They are places of scholarly work, spaces of interdisciplinary interaction, and programs of service among other things. With this complexity in mind, this book theorizes writing center studies as a function of its own rhetorical and discursive practices. In other words, the things we do and make define who we are and what we value. Through a comprehensive methodological framework grounded in critical discourse analysis, this book takes a closer look at prominent writing center discourses by temporarily shifting attention away from the stakeholders' work locations and scholarship of the discipline and onto things, the artifacts and networks that make up the discipline. Through this approach, we can see the ways the discipline reinforces, challenges, reproduces, and subverts structures of institutional power. As a result, writing center studies can be seen as a vast ecosystem of interconnectivity and intertextuality.

Managing Intermountain Rangelands

Kirk A. Astroth, Neil C. Frischknecht, 1984. Geologic Investigations of Radioactive Deposits, Semiannual Progress Report, 1954-12. TEI, 1955. Writing with Authority David Foster, 2006-06-28. Writing with Authority offers a comparison of student writers in two university cultures one German and one American as the students learn to connect their writing to academic content David Foster demonstrates the effectiveness of using cross cultural comparisons to assess differences in literacy activities and suggests teaching approaches that will help American students better develop their roles as writers in knowledge based communities Writing Program Administration at Small Liberal Arts Colleges Jill M.

Gladstein,Dara Rossman Regaignon,2012-03-19 WRITING PROGRAM ADMINISTRATION AT SMALL LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGES presents an empirical study of the writing programs at one hundred small private liberal arts colleges Jill M Gladstein and Dara Rossman Regaignon provide detailed information about a type of writing program not often highlighted in the scholarly record and offer a model for such national multi institutional research Fodor's the Complete Guide to The National Parks of the West Fodor's,2010 A guide to national parks in the West provides information on attractions accommodations restaurants when to go plants and animals and activities for each park Writing Ethnographic Fieldnotes, Second Edition Robert M. Emerson,Rachel I. Fretz,Linda L. Shaw,2011-12-25 In Writing Ethnographic Fieldnotes Robert M Emerson Rachel I Fretz and Linda L Shaw present a series of guidelines suggestions and practical advice for creating useful fieldnotes in a variety of settings demystifying a process that is often assumed to be intuitive and impossible to teach Using actual unfinished notes as examples the authors illustrate options for composing reviewing and working fieldnotes into finished texts They discuss different organizational and descriptive strategies and show how transforming direct observations into vivid descriptions results not simply from good memory but from learning to envision scenes as written A good ethnographer they demonstrate must learn to remember dialogue and movement like an actor to see colors and shapes like a painter and to sense moods and rhythms like a poet This new edition reflects the extensive feedback the authors have received from students and instructors since the first edition was published in 1995 As a result they have updated the race class and gender section created new sections on coding programs and revising first drafts and provided new examples of working notes An essential tool for budding social scientists the second edition of Writing Ethnographic Fieldnotes will be invaluable for a new generation of researchers entering the field Working with Faculty Writers Anne Ellen Geller,Michele Eodice,2013-06-15 The imperative to write and to publish is a relatively new development in the history of academia yet it is now a significant factor in the culture of higher education Working with Faculty Writers takes a broad view of faculty writing support advocating its value for tenure track professors adjuncts senior scholars and graduate students The authors in the volume imagine productive campus writing support for faculty and future faculty that allows for new insights about their own disciplinary writing and writing processes as well as the development of fresh ideas about student writing Contributors from a variety of institution types and perspectives consider who faculty writers are and who they may be in the future reveal the range of locations and models of support for faculty writers explore the ways these might be delivered and assessed and consider the theoretical philosophical political and pedagogical approaches to faculty writing support as well as its relationship to student writing support With the pressure on faculty to be productive researchers and writers greater than ever this is a must read volume for administrators faculty and others involved in developing and assessing models of faculty writing support Beyond Dichotomy Steven J. Corbett,2015-03-15 This book offers multi method case studies of course based tutoring and one to one tutorials in developmental first year writing courses at two universities The author makes an argument for more peer to peer learning situations for developmental writers and more detailed studies of what goes on in these peer centered environments

Sharing Our Intellectual Traces Tracy Bridgeford,Karla Saari Kitalong,Bill Williamson,2016-11-03 Administrators of academic professional and technical communication PTSC programs have long relied upon lore stories of what works to understand and communicate about the work of program administration Stories are interesting telling engaging and necessary But a discipline focused primarily on stories especially the ephemeral stories narrated at conferences and deliberated at department meetings usually suffice primarily to solve immediate problems and address day to day concerns and activities This edited collection captures some of those stories and layers them with theoretical perspectives and reflection to enhance their usefulness to the PTSC program administration community at large Like the ephemeral stories PTSC program administrators are accustomed to the stories told in this volume are set within specific institutional contexts that reflect specific institutional challenges They emphasize the intellectual traces the debts the authors owe to those who have informed and transformed their administrative work In so doing this collection creates another conversation albeit a robust diverse and theoretically informed one around which program leaders might define or redefine their roles and re envision their administrative work as the rich complex intellectual engagement that we find it to be This volume asks authors to move beyond a notion of administration as an activity based solely in institutional details and processes In so doing they emphasize theory as they share their reflections on core administrative processes and significant moments in the histories of their associated programs thereby affording opportunities for critical examination in conjunction with practical advice Keywords in Writing Studies Paul Heilker,John Vandenberg,2015-02-15 Keywords in Writing

Studies is an exploration of the principal ideas and ideals of an emerging academic field as they are constituted by its specialized vocabulary A sequel to the 1996 work Keywords in Composition Studies this new volume traces the evolution of the field s lexicon taking into account the wide variety of theoretical educational professional and institutional developments that have redefined it over the past two decades Contributors address the development transformation and interconnections among thirty six of the most critical terms that make up writing studies Looking beyond basic definitions or explanations they explore the multiple layers of meaning within the terms that writing scholars currently use exchange and question Each term featured is a part of the general disciplinary parlance and each is a highly contested focal point of significant debates about matters of power identity and values Each essay begins with the assumption that its central term is important precisely because its meaning is open and multiplex Keywords in Writing Studies reveals how the key concepts in the field are used and even challenged rather than advocating particular usages and the particular vision of the field that they imply The volume will be of great interest to both graduate students and established scholars Writing Is My Drink Theo Pauline Nestor, 2013-11-05 Whether you're aiming for a New York Times bestseller or a short personal essay to share with family and friends a popular blogger and memoirist shows you the way in this witty writing guide and disarmingly candid account of discovering her own voice Whether you're aiming for a New York Times bestseller or a short personal essay to share with family and friends a popular blogger and memoirist shows you the way in this witty writing guide and disarmingly candid account of discovering her own voice Theo Nestor is a writer who I am positive will be heard from wrote Pulitzer Prize winning author Frank McCourt and hear from her we do in this enthralling memoir that doubles as a witty and richly told writing guide Yet the real promise in Writing Is My Drink lies in Nestor's uncanny ability as a storyteller and teacher to make sure we'll also hear from you the reader Brimming with stories from her own writing life and paired with practical Try This sections designed to challenge and inspire this disarmingly candid account of a writer's search for her voice delivers charming wise and often hilarious guidance that will motivate writers at every stage of their careers
