Deanship in the Global South Oliver J.J. Seale, 2021-02-08 The university today is a postmodern neo liberal competitive boundary less knowledge conglomerate a far cry from its historical traditional classical and collegial roots There is a body of literature on deanship that points to its evolving nature in the contemporary academe characterised by complexity and change Balancing academic demands simultaneously with the requirements for effective performance leadership and management lies at the heart of this very challenging bridging role nowadays Deans are generally former academics emerging from a traditional collegial space and often catapulted into the relatively unknown domain of executive management with its related problems Deans nowadays are required to be more than collegial intellectual leaders They are also meant to be fiscal and human resource experts fundraisers politicians and diplomats Deanship in the Global South Bridging Troubled Waters is about the deans lived reality as they try to balance the demands of both the academe from which they emerge and the administration to whom they now need to account Their lack of preparation and inadequate support points to the need for a more strategic integrated approach to leadership development within their critical bridging roles between the academe and administration The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Futures Robert C. Brears, 2023-01-13 While urban settlements are the drivers of the global economy and centres of learning culture and innovation and nations rely on competitive dynamic regions for their economic social and environmental objectives urban centres and regions face a myriad of challenges that impact the ways in which people live and work create wealth and interact and connect with places Rapid urbanisation is resulting in urban sprawl rising emissions urban poverty and high unemployment rates housing affordability issues lack of urban investment low urban financial and governance capacities rising inequality and urban crimes environmental degradation increasing vulnerability to natural disasters and so forth At the regional level low employment low wage growth scarce financial resources climate change waste and pollution and rising urban peri urban competition etc are impacting the ability of regions to meet socio economic development goals while protecting biodiversity The response to these challenges has typically been the application of inadequate or piecemeal solutions often as a result of fragmented decision making and competing priorities with numerous economic environmental and social consequences In response there is a growing movement towards viewing cities and regions as complex and sociotechnical in nature with people and communities interacting with one another and with objects such as roads buildings transport links etc within a range of urban and regional settings or contexts This comprehensive MRW will provide readers with expert interdisciplinary knowledge on how urban centres and regions in locations of varying climates lifestyles income levels and stages development are creating synergies and reducing trade offs in the development of resilient resource efficient environmentally friendly liveable socially equitable integrated and technology enabled centres and regions Transformative Environmental Constitutionalism Melanie Murcott, 2022-10-24 Given the Anthropocene s converging socio ecological crises particularly the dire issue of climate change social movements are increasingly approaching the courts to advance intersecting struggles for social environmental and climate justice Transformative constitutional regimes in South Africa and elsewhere that incorporate environmental and human rights protections offer potentially powerful legal norms to advance the struggles of these movements Grappling with such norms and with problematic trends in adjudication Prof Melanie Jean Murcott develops a legal theory of Transformative Environmental Constitutionalism as a novel framework within which courts could adjudicate environmental law disputes developing law for the Anthropocene s global struggles

African Ubuntu and its View on Law, Human Rights and Sustainable Development Goals Dorine E. van Norren, 2025-01-22 This innovative account of wellbeing perspectives of South African Ubuntu philosophy sheds new light on sustainability debates It questions the universality of the UN Sustainable Development Goals The slogan of the Goals Leave no one behind begs the question of who is behind and who is ahead Development is caught in the logic of linear sustainable growth of nations and centres around the flourishing of the individual instead of the community Life is mutual aid would be the African approach which includes a logic of sharing affirming that one s humanity is tied to others With concrete examples of policies law jurisprudence on Ubuntu and practice from South Africa this book is a must read for philosophers willing to think beyond European philosophy development economists interested in reshaping today s paradigms innovative human rights lawyers with a social heart anthropologists who yearn for a dialogue between worldviews of the Global South and science and all people who seek new meaning in today s society
