sociology Geobotanical cartography is a field of thematic cartography that deals with the interpretation and representation in the form of maps of those spatial and temporal phenomena that pertain to flora vegetation vegetated landscapes vegetation zones and phytogeographical units The production of a geobotanical map represents the last stage in a cognitive process that begins with observations in the field and continues with the collection of sample data interpretation of the phenomena observed and their appropriate cartographic representation geobotanical cartography is closely tied to the concepts and scope of geobotany in general The Structure of Knowledge Using Natural Patterns John Krey M.Ed., M.Sc.

Functional Lens Daniel M. Griffith,Christopher J. Still,Colin P. Daud Rafiqpoor,2022-11-07 Vegetation soil and climate are the most important components of ecological systems The book represents a compact synthesis of our current knowledge about the ecology of the Earth and is thus the basis for understanding the major interrelationships in a global perspective In the first part with a rich endowment of illustrations and photographic material the well introduced book deals with the essential processes and operations on the Earth's surface that lead to the formation of the vegetation cover with its distinctive zonation In the second part the individual vegetation zones as large scale ecosystems i.e. zonobiomes of the biosphere are consistently described comparatively according to certain criteria In a short and compact form the main characteristics and structures as well as examples of ecosystem processes are discussed The large scale ecosystems are at the same time the basis and reference system for all anthropogenic changes that have drastically altered the vegetation in the last millennia but
