Vatican II Catholic Doctrines On Jews And Muslims:

Vatican II Gavin D'Costa, 2014 Gavin D Costa breaks new ground in this authoritative study of the Second Vatican Council's doctrines on other religions with particular attention to Judaism and Islam. The focus is exclusively on the doctrinal foundations found in Lumen Gentium 16 that will serve Catholicism in the twenty-first century. D Costa provides a map outlining different hermeneutical approaches to the Council whilst synthesising their strengths and providing a critique of their weaknesses. Moreover, he classifies the different authority attributed to doctrines thereby clarifying debates regarding continuity, discontinuity and reform in doctrinal teaching. Vatican II Catholic Doctrines on Jews and Muslims expertly examines the Council's revolutionary teaching on Judaism which has been subject to conflicting readings including the claim that the Council reversed doctrinal teachings in this area. Through a rigorous examination of the debates, the drafts, the official commentary and with consideration of the previous Council and papal doctrinal teachings on the Jews, D Costa lays bare the doctrinal achievements of the Council and concludes with a similar detailed examination of Catholic doctrines on Islam. This innovative text makes essential interventions in the debate about Council hermeneutics and doctrinal teachings on the religions.

Catholic Doctrines on the Jewish People After Vatican II Gavin D'Costa, 2019 This book addresses three controversial and timely questions related to Catholic Jewish dialogue: Jewish ritual, Catholic Zionism, and mission.

Catholic Doctrines on the Jewish People after Vatican II Gavin D'Costa, 2019-10-10 In this timely study, Gavin D Costa explores Roman Catholic doctrines after the Second Vatican Council regarding the Jewish people, 1965-2015. It establishes the emergence of the teaching that God's covenant with the Jewish people is irrevocable. What does this mean for Catholics regarding Jewish religious rituals, the land, and mission? Catholic Doctrines on the Jewish People after Vatican II establishes that the Catholic Church has a new teaching about the Jewish people: the covenant made with God is irrevocable. D Costa faces head-on three important issues arising from the new teaching. First, previous Catholic teachings seem to claim Jewish rituals are invalid. He argues this is not the case. Earlier teachings allow us positive insights into the modern question. Second, a nuanced case for Catholic minimalist Zionism is advanced without detriment to the Palestinian cause. This is in keeping with Catholic readings of scripture and the development of the Holy See's attitude to the State of Israel. Third, the painful question of mission is explored. D Costa shows the new approach safeguards Jewish identity and allows for the possibility of successful witness by Hebrew Catholics who retain their Jewish identity and religious life.

Catholic Doctrines on the Jewish People After Vatican II Gavin D'Costa, 2019 The book explores Roman Catholic doctrines after the Second Vatican Council regarding the Jewish people, 1965-2015. It establishes the emergence of the teaching that God's covenant with the Jewish people is irrevocable. What does this mean for Catholics regarding Jewish religious rituals the land and mission The book examines early magisterial documents that seem to contradict current teachings The apparent contradiction is historically contextualized It argues two points First that earlier teachings accept the positive value of Jewish rituals within certain conditions This can be applied in principle to contemporary religious Jewish rituals These earlier traditions also show a positive valuation of Jewish cultic practices within the early Christian church The book examines new Catholic approaches to the Old Testament Despite different New Testament teachings about the land it is argued that the promise of the Land to the Jewish people with various conditions can be regarded as valid for Catholics The book also examines the Holy See's shifting attitude to the modern State of Israel and its pragmatic silence on the theology of land The book proposes a form of minimalist Catholic Zionism affirming the land without excluding a just Palestinian resolution The book explores unresolved Catholic teachings on mission and witness The centre of this debate concerns the new assumption that Christians should not erase God given Jewish identity The book asks could Hebrew Catholics witness to this reality while also testifying to the compatibility and unity of the two covenants

Symposium on Gavin D'Costa, Vatican II: Catholic Doctrines on Jews and Muslims Marianne Moyaert, 2017 A Comparative History of Catholic and Aš'arī Theologies of Truth and Salvation Mohammed Gamal Abdelnour, 2021-05-25 In A Comparative History of Catholic and A ar Theologies of Truth and Salvation Mohammed Gamal Abdelnour analytically and critically compares the historical development of the Catholic theologies of truth and salvation with those of its Islamic counterpart. The monograph moves the discussion from individual theologians to theological schools with a view to helping consolidate the young field of Comparative Theology. It serves two types of readers: First, the specialist who wants to dig deeper into the two traditions parallelly. Second, the generalist who may not have the time to become thoroughly familiar with every aspect of Christian-Muslim theologies. Both readers will come out with a holistic understanding of the development of Christian and Muslim theologies of truth and salvation, a holistic understanding that increases the appetite of the former and quenches that of the latter. Despite the holistic nature of the monograph, attention is duly paid to the specificities of each tradition in a deep and profound manner.

Catholic - Jewish Engagements on Israel Gavin

D'Costa, Vito, Ccn Etienne, White Op Thomas Joseph, 2025-07-25. This is the first volume of its kind bringing together a group of international Jewish and Catholic scholars in creative conversation addressing the question of the status of the land called Israel. Is Israel best viewed as political territory, the Holy Land, or part of the biblical promise? If committing to one of these options, what are the theological and political consequences? The book is divided into sections that take the reader through several related questions that bear upon this topic. There is a preface with an overview of how far Catholic-Jewish conversations have gone since Nostra Aetate and how these conversations have now begun to address the land. Then there is an attempt to advance positive theological cases by Catholics and Jews affirming the people in the land as theologically significant, not without difficulties regarding the state itself. The next section deals with the Bible/Tanakh as the basis of such claims and addresses the different reading strategies by each community. One of the central questions is then addressed: what of the Palestinian people do the biblical promise to the Jewish people spell disaster for the Palestinians? Can revelation mean dispossession? The following essays address a stumbling block for both groups: do Jewish and Christian theologies underwrite a nation-state? Isn't this option perilously close to God underwriting nationalism? The book ends with subtle critiques of the entire venture undertaken in this volume. Essential reading for Catholic-Jewish relations and one that addresses one of the most pressing contemporary questions for both religions.

This book focuses on history and the use of Mary as either a bridge or barrier between Islam and Christianity.

Christian and Islamic Theology of Religions Esra Akay Dag, 2017-04-21. Theologians have had to increasingly engage with beliefs and practices outside of their own traditions. The resultant theology of religions is however often formulated in isolation from the religions they are describing. This book provides a comparison of the development of theology of religions in Western Christianity and its application in an Islamic context. It also shows the parallels between some specific forms of theology of religions, i.e. exclusivism, inclusivism, or pluralism, in both Islamic and Christian traditions. The arguments of Christian and Muslim theologians, including the specific contributions of Rowan Williams and Jerusha Lamprey, are examined in order to reveal the interconnections and contradictions of their pluralist, exclusivist, and inclusivist approaches. This provides a rounded picture of Christian Muslim understanding of religious others and prepares the ground for a stronger and more sophisticated Islamic theology of religions This is vital reading for those studying theology of religions comparative theology and interfaith relations Waiting on Grace Michael Barnes, 2020-02-27 Whereas much theology of religions regards the other as a problem to be solved this book begins with a Church called to witness to its faith in a multicultural world by practising a generous yet risky hospitality A theology of dialogue takes its rise from the Christian experience of being in dialogue Taking its rise from the biblical narrative of encounter call and response such a theology cannot be fully understood without reference to the matrix of faith that Christians share in complex ways with the Jewish people The contemporary experience of the Shoah the dominating religious event of the 20th Century has complexified that relationship and left an indelible mark on the religious sensibility of both Jews and Christians Engaging with a range of thinkers from Heschel Levinas and Edith Stein who were all deeply affected by the Shoah to Metz Panikkar and Rowan Williams who are always pressing the limits of what can and cannot be said with integrity about the self revealing Word of God this book shows how Judaism is a necessary if not sufficient source of Christian self understanding What is commended by this foundational engagement is a hope filled waiting on grace made possible by virtues of empathy and patience A theology of dialogue focuses not on metaphysical abstractions but on biblical forms of thought about God's presence to human beings which Christians share with Jews and under the continuing guidance of the Spirit of Christ learn to adapt to a whole range of contested cultural and political contexts Engaging the Doctrine of Israel Matthew Levering, 2021-09-16 This book is the dogmatic sequel to Levering's Engaging the Doctrine of Marriage in which he argued that God's purpose in creating the cosmos is the eschatological marriage of God and his people God sets this marriage into motion through his covenantal election of a particular people the people of Israel Central to this people's relationship with the Creator God are their Scriptures exodus Torah Temple land and Davidic kingship As a Christian Israelology this book devotes a chapter to each of these topics investigating their theological significance both in light of ongoing Judaism and in light of Christian Scripture Old and New Testaments and Christian theology The book makes a significant contribution to charting a path forward for Jewish Christian dialogue from the perspective of post Vatican II Catholicism Israel Paul J. Griffiths, 2023-11-07 Israel A Christian Grammar proposes an understanding of Israel for Christians The book's central claim is that Israel properly includes both the synagogue and the church which is the same as to say that Israel properly includes both Christians and Jews This the book proposes makes better sense of twentieth and twenty first century developments in Christian doctrine about the Jewish people than other rival construals of the same matter if Christians and Jews share a lineage worship the same God have the same purpose and are each given an irrevocable promise by that God of the continuation of their condition as God's beloved community then they share a form of life and that form of life is Israel Such an understanding requires addressing what separates church and synagogue theologically liturgically halakhically how the differences between them came about and the condition and meaning of those differences now That address is provided Central to it is a depiction of the correct way for Christians to understand the nature of the separation between themselves and Jews and of the part the church has played in bringing it about Central to that in turn is a detailed depiction of the ways in which the church and the synagogue respectively are and are not intimate with God On that last point the book argues that the best working assumption for Christians is that Jews are in general more intimate with God than Christians themselves are From this in turn follow recommendations as to how Christians should now behave with respect to proselytizing Jews depicting Jews baptizing Jews and marrying Jews

Ratzinger on Religious Pluralism Fr. Sameer Advani, LC, 2024-10-01 What can Christian theology claim about the place of other religions in God's providential plan for humanity How can it reconcile the universality of God's saving plan and the particularity of Christ and the Church What meaning is left to Christian existence and mission in a religiously pluralist world As priest theologian cardinal archbishop and pope Joseph Ratzinger reflected on these difficult questions for more than half a century and in a variety of contexts proffering an array of profound answers that are dispersed across his substantial literary corpus In Ratzinger on Religious Pluralism Sameer Advani assembles and synthesizes these reflections and answers of the late pontiff providing a systematic study of Ratzinger's theology of religions that attends to the scope of his larger historical philosophical and theological concerns The first part analyzes Ratzinger's critical engagement with various paradigms of religious pluralism whose accounts of religion Christianity and non-Christian religions he found both phenomenologically and theologically wanting The second part in turn explores Ratzinger's positive proposal for a theology of religions which locates both Christianity and non-Christian religions against the larger backgrounds of anthropological unity the human search for truth and divine providence Advani argues that while Ratzinger rejected the idea that other religions are salvific or on par with Christianity he recognized both their important role in God's providential plan and their suitedness to an assumption into the Church through mutual albeit asymmetric purification and enrichment

Joseph Ratzinger and the Healing of Reformation-Era Divisions Emery de Gaál, Matthew Levering, 2019-11-01 Edited by Emery de Gaál and Matthew Levering Joseph Ratzinger and the Healing of Reformation Era Divisions examines Joseph Ratzinger Pope Benedict XVI's manifold contributions to Catholic Protestant theological reflection The collection opens with an introduction comparing Ratzinger's approach to ecumenism to that of Karl Rahner Rahner argues that the structural uniting of Protestants and Catholics should take place now without worrying about doctrinal differences In contrast Ratzinger argues that unity in Christ requires probing the doctrinal differences and seeking a deeper understanding of the reasoning of each side on the grounds that the truth of the Gospel that each side desires to preserve will ultimately be the basis for the only kind of Christian ecclesial unity worth having namely a unity of the basis of the truth of the Gospel of Jesus Christ Detailed essays follow treating a number of loci including papal primacy ecumenical principles liturgy evangelization Mariology Christ's birth and the celebration of Christmas public theology Christocentrism Martin

Luther charity conscience missiology justification the reception of Ratzinger Benedict in Radical Orthodoxy and Scripture and Tradition These essays run the full gamut of Ratzinger Benedict's major themes and preoccupations Ten of the essays are by Catholic scholars and seven by Protestant scholars Contributors include many of the world's leading Ratzinger experts and the volume opens with an essay by Bishop Rudolf Voderholzer Director of the Pope Benedict XVI Institute in Regensburg Germany

Rituals in Interreligious Dialogue Marcel Poorthuis, 2020-04-30 Rituals are back on stage today Until recently they were regarded as an obsolete and even incomprehensible part of religions relegated to the background while ethics and spirituality attracted more focus However the realisation is growing that rituals represent the treasure of religious memory They connect the human being to the past and to the community that surrounds her or him However what happens to rituals when different religions meet This book shows that a great deal can be learned by taking rituals seriously This holds good for the rich treasure of rituals within religions such as Judaism Islam Hinduism and Christianity Only by recognizing these treasures can new possibilities for rituals in interreligious encounters be explored

The Past, Present, and Future of Theologies of Interreligious Dialogue Terrence Merrigan, John Friday, 2017 A collection of thirteen essays which reflect on the problematic relationship between religious diversity and interreligious dialogue by examining key issues that arise from attempting to do justice to the doctrinal tradition of Christianity

Interreligious Studies Rachel Mikva, 2023-06-15 The first comprehensive textbook designed for undergraduate and graduate students in Interreligious Studies

The New Evangelization, 2015-02-26 The Second Vatican Council endorsed an engagement with the modern and secularized world through a renewed proclamation of the Gospel John Paul II described this as the New Evangelization and in 2010 Benedict XVI confirmed this priority by creating the Pontifical Council for Promoting the New Evangelization to re-propose the perennial truth of the Gospel The New Evangelization was the subject of the Synod of Bishops in 2012 and in 2014 Pope Francis gave his reflections on the topic in Evangelii Gaudium The New Evangelization draws on material presented and discussed at the conference Vatican II 50 Years On The New Evangelization organised by Leeds Trinity University on 26-29th June 2012 Part I traces the historical and theological links between the Council and the New Evangelization Part II examines the renewed understanding of the Church as a result of the Council and the extent to which it is shaped by civilization Part III analyzes the nature of the New Evangelization and its outworking in today's multifarious context of cultures religions and societies Part IV deals with the implementation of the New Evangelization by different communities and organizations and the issues this raises In the Introduction and Conclusion the editors reflect on the New Evangelization in the light of significant developments since 2012
