to broaden the scope of analysis and fundamentally challenge the state of modernity The Poetics of Genre in the Contemporary Novel Tim Lanzendörfer, 2015-11-19 The Poetics of Genre in the Contemporary Novel investigates the role of genre in the contemporary novel taking its departure from the observation that numerous contemporary novelists make use of popular genre influences in what are still widely considered to be literary novels it sketches the uses of the work and the value of genre It suggests the value of a critical look at texts genre use for an analysis of the contemporary moment From this it develops a broader perspective suggesting the value of genre criticism and taking into view traditional genres such as the bildungsroman and the metafictional novel as well as the kinds of amalgamated forms which have recently come to prominence In essays discussing a wide range of authors from Steven Hall to Bret Easton Ellis to Colson Whitehead the contributors to the volume develop their own readings of genre's work and valence in the contemporary novel Exit West by Mohsin Hamid (Book Analysis) Bright Summaries, 2019-04-08 Unlock the more straightforward side of Exit West with this concise and insightful summary and analysis This engaging summary presents an analysis of Exit West by Mohsin Hamid which imagines a world where doors can instantly transport people across the globe The novel focuses on Saeed and Nadia who are fleeing civil war in their native country and use the doors to travel to new countries where the inhabitants' responses range from violent nativist riots to official clampdowns to acceptance and integration Mohsin Hamid is a Pakistani writer and brand consultant He is known in particular for his novels The Reluctant Fundamentalist which was shortlisted for the 2007 Man Booker Prize and Exit West which was shortlisted for the 2017 Man Booker Prize and was named one of the New York Times 10 Best Books of 2017 Find out everything you need to know about Exit West in a fraction of the time This in-depth and informative reading guide brings you A complete plot summary Character studies Key themes and symbols Questions for further reflection Why choose BrightSummaries.com Available in print and digital format our publications are designed to accompany you on your reading journey The clear and concise style makes for easy understanding providing the perfect opportunity to improve your literary knowledge in no time See the very best of literature in a whole new light with BrightSummaries.com Game Theory and Minorities in American Literature Michael Wainwright, 2017-03-07 This interdisciplinary monograph applies the theory of games of strategy or game theory to an important subset of American literature: minoritarian texts Fittingly John von Neumann's game theory as a mathematical subdiscipline practically abandoned by its founder after the publication of Zur Theorie der Gesellschaftsspiele 1928 but purposefully reengaged with on his permanent relocation to America in 1938 carries the minoritarian credentials of a Hungarian-born national of Jewish descent The state of international politics in the late 1930s certainly contributed to von Neumann's renewed interest in his theory but a socioeconomic environment built on the legacy of slavery focused a reengagement with coordination problems that would last until his death In these strategic situations people must make choices in the knowledge that other people face the same options and that the outcome for each person will result from everybody's decisions The four most frequently encountered coordination problems are the Stag Hunt the Prisoner's Dilemma Chicken and Deadlock Minoritarians find majoritarian attempts to control these social dilemmas particularly challenging Hence a game theoretically inflected hermeneutic that identifies the logical rational and strategic state of human interrelations not only helps to categorize but also to analyze minoritarian texts The authors under detailed consideration are Benjamin Franklin Frederick Douglass Harriet A Jacobs Zora Neale Hurston William Faulkner Toni Morrison and Mohsin Hamid The Reluctant Fundamentalist Keren Shlezinger, 2013-04 Insight Text Guide for Mohsin Hamid's The Reluctant Fundamentalist Beyond Hybridity and Fundamentalism Tabassum Ruhi Khan, 2015-05-28 The question of identity and especially its formation among youth has received significant academic attention as our worlds become intricately and unpredictably connected through satellite televisions mobile telephones Internet and social networking platforms Marking a distinct addition to such scholarship this volume is an ethnographic study of the under investigated issue of Indian Muslim youth's emergent subjectivity in a media saturated globalized Indian society The author develops the idea of convoluted modernity to explain Muslim youth's reactions to multifarious and divergent influences both from the East as well as the West shaping their everyday life The concept illustrates how Muslim youths' ideas about self and community draw equally on MTV as on Peace TV to create a complex truck between consumerist hedonism and globalized Islam Introducing a new perspective to studies on globalization media and cultural politics this book shows how interpolation of local and global in the accelerated virtual spheres and their contextual interpretation within an expanding economy notwithstanding Muslim youth's disadvantaged position shape alternate modernities rife with ambiguities and beyond binaries of progress and regression Reluctant Modernism George Cotkin, 2004-09-15 In Reluctant Modernism American Thought and Culture 1880-1900 George Cotkin surveys the intellectual life of this crucial transitional period His story begins with the Darwinian controversies since the mainstream of American culture was just beginning to come to grips with the implications of the Origins of Species Cotkin demonstrates the effects of this shift in thinking on philosophy anthropology and the newly developing field of psychology Throughout this fascinating readable history of the American fin de siècle run the contrasting themes of continuity and change faith and rationalism despair over the meaninglessness of life and ultimately a guarded optimism about the future Tabish Khair Cristina M. Gámez-Fernández, Om Prakash Dwivedi, 2014-03-17 This volume approaches Tabish Khair's writings both his theoretical proposals and his novels from numerous different perspectives Contributors engage from varied critical stances with Khair's academic writings in a fruitful dialogue analyze his social political and religious concerns and elucidate his characteristics as a novelist and his literary powers Furthermore this volume is highly enriched by the presence of a hitherto unpublished play by Khair entitled The One Percent Agency which focuses on a tourism agency specializing in bringing Bollywood style Indian weddings to foreign tourists In the process it becomes a satirical commentary on the packaging of international tourism as well as the ability of common Indians to adapt and thrive It depicts the metropolitan India of the new American Novels Mousa Abu Haserah, 2023-08-09 This book provides a scientific and academic contribution to the scholarly exploration of the complex relationship between the East and the West in American literature The study focuses on four novels Mornings in Jenin Falling Man The Reluctant Fundamentalist and Riyah Al Janna The Wind of Paradise to discuss how the literature reflects on Middle Eastern themes in relation to the situations and conditions of the New East It treats the Orient as a moving body and takes Edward Said's Orientalism into account also showing Post Orientalism or the New East as a literary phenomenon in the 21st century specializing in politics militarism and post colonial ideology The book explains and divides the Middle East into two parts the Arab Islamic Middle East and the non Arab Islamic Middle East It highlights the similarities and differences between these two parts as depicted in various novels presenting the East as a land of desolation and destruction due to the political regional and religious changes that have shaken it The Midrashic Impulse and the Contemporary Literary Response to Trauma Monica Osborne, 2017-12-06 Since the end of World War II we have witnessed countless artistic responses to the Holocaust yet we remain unable to adequately address the atrocities While Theodor Adorno later rescinded his comments on the barbaric nature of writing poetry after Auschwitz The Midrashic Impulse and the Contemporary Literary Response to Trauma begins with the possibility that he was right that his admonition against poetry warns against employing representational modes that transgress the boundaries of the ethical when it comes to the Holocaust There is a language other than the language of representation with which we might speak authentically about such atrocities This study explores what it means for the world of literature to renounce the language of representation and retain the language of witness Drawing on the work of Emmanuel Levinas Maurice Blanchot Geoffrey Hartman and others the book focuses on the increasing tendency of contemporary writers to rely on non representational approaches to storytelling in the context of trauma This tendency is named the midrashic impulse given its similarity to ancient rabbinic approaches to the silences of the Hebrew bible through the creation of Midrash

Tony Thompson, 2010 Genetic Criticism and the Creative Process William Kinderman, Joseph E. Jones, 2009 Studies of the genesis of musical literary and theatrical works Not only the final outcome but the process of creative endeavor has long attracted attention in various artistic disciplines but only recently has the potential of such research been seriously explored. The most rigorous basis for the study of artistic creativity comes not from anecdotal or autobiographical reports but from original handwritten sketches and drafts and preliminary studies as well as from revised manuscripts and typescripts, corrected proof sheets and similar primary sources. The term genetic criticism or critique genétique relates not to the field of genetics but to the genesis of works of art as studied in a broad and inclusive context. The essays in this volume explore aspects of genetic criticism in an interdisciplinary context, emphasizing music literature and theater. A common thread pertains to the essential continuity between a work and its genesis. This volume brings together essays from leading scholars on subjects ranging from biblical scholarship to Samuel Beckett and from Beethoven's Eroica Symphony to very recent musical compositions. Contributors: Nicolas Donin, Daniel Ferrer, Alan Gosman, R. B. Graves, Joseph E. Jones, William Kinderman, Jean-Louis Lebrave, Lewis Lockwood, Geert Lernout, Peter McCallum, Armine Kotin Mortimer, and James L. Zychowicz. William Kinderman is Professor of Musicology at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Joseph E. Jones is visiting Assistant Professor of Musicology at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Darwin's Forgotten Defenders David N. Livingstone, 1997. This book is the first systematic investigation of the response of evangelical intellectuals in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries to Darwin's evolutionary theories. Despite evidence to the contrary, many people continue to believe that warfare between science and religion over the issue of evolution broke out as soon as Darwin published The Origin of the Species in 1859. In fact, as David Livingstone points out, a substantial number of that era's leaders in science and technology had little trouble reconciling their conservative theological views to Darwin's new theories. The author contends that the sort of pitched battle being waged by the creationist movement today has its roots not in the evangelical heritage of the nineteenth century but in the fundamentalism that emerged during the early decades of the twentieth century. This study, which sheds new light on previously neglected aspects of the Darwinian controversies, should have appeal for all who are interested in the relationship between science and religion.
