Tourism and

Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Marina Novelli,2015-09-16 Over the past 20 years the perception of tourism as an effective contributor to socio economic development in the developing world has propagated with many viewing tourism as a provider for poverty alleviation and towards other UN Millennium Development Goals Over the same period readers have become familiar with the paradoxes complexities and inequalities of tourism in relation to development wealth creation growth redistribution governance and hosts guests relationships This volume further extends this critical debate with a much needed cohesive publication on Sub Sahara Africa SSA In an era of fluctuating tourist arrivals at global level the growth of tourism in SSA requires deeper consideration in terms of its inconsistent and questionable implications at local level Taking as a central theme the debate on whether tourism should be used in development efforts this book examines the way in which tourism has controversially become the way forward to development in several SSA locations and assesses bottlenecks to sustainable development as well as dilemmas and challenges faced by those SSA destinations seeking to achieve development through tourism It offers an explicit set of chapters adopting a multi disciplinary approach drawing upon tourism studies human geography sociology anthropology political economy development and environmental studies and integrates case studies authored by local African practitioners and academics to produce a book that gave voice to local experts on local realities Combining an overview of key theories concepts contemporary issues and debates as well as practical insights from a wide range of regions in SSA this book will be a valuable resource for those investigating the role of tourism in development Routledge Handbook on Tourism in the Middle East and North Africa Dallen Timothy,2018-12-07

The Routledge Handbook on Tourism in the Middle East and North Africa examines the importance of tourism as a historical economic social environmental religious and political force in the Middle East and North Africa MENA It highlights the ecological and resource challenges related to water desert environments climate change and oil It provides an in depth analysis of the geopolitical conditions that have long determined the patterns of tourism demand and supply throughout the region and how these play out in the everyday lives of residents and destinations as they attempt to grow tourism or ignore it entirely While cultural heritage remains the primary tourism asset for the region as a whole many new types of tourisms are emerging especially in the Arabian Gulf region where hyper development is closely associated with the increasingly prominent role of luxury real estate and shopping retail medical tourism cruises and transit tourism The growing phenomenon of an expatriate workforce and how its segregation from the citizenry creates a dual socio economic system in several countries is unmatched by other regions of the world Many indigenous people of MENA keep themselves apart from other dominant groups in the region although these social boundaries are becoming increasingly blurred as tourism being one socio economic force for change has inspired many nomadic peoples to settle into towns and villages and rely more on tourists for their livelihoods All of these issues and more shape the foundations of this book This Handbook is the first of its kind to examine tourism from a broad regional and inclusive perspective surveying a broad range of social cultural heritage ecological and political matters in a single volume With a wide range of contributors many of whom are natives of the Middle East and North Africa this Handbook is a vital resource for students and scholars interested in Tourism Middle East Studies and Geography Wildlife Tourism Futures Giovanna Bertella,2020-11-26 This book presents a series of possible future

A Sustainable Tourism Workforce Shelagh Mooney, Richard N.S. Robinson, David J. Solnet, Tom Baum, 2024-02-15 This book brings together issues of social justice and the neglect of a sustainable orientation to the tourism workforce This has resulted in an impoverished unsustainable and transient workforce that does not meet the aims of UN sustainable goals within the sector or indeed the UNTWO Code of ethics towards its employees The introductory review and 15 chapters in this volume each make a unique and distinct contribution to knowledge The opening review presents a critique of current definitions of sustainability in an employment and specifically in a tourism employment context acknowledging and critiquing extant literature It uniquely recognises the themes submitted on the topic of sustainable work in the book as well as those which comprise the final selection of chapters These exercises culminate in the presentation of a refreshed conceptualisation of sustainable employment The chapters were mapped onto a proposed conceptual framework which recognises the multi dimensional influences of the evolving Sustainable Development Goals SDGs recent Sustainable Human Resource Management SHRM and tourism literature and fresh contributions to theory Additionally the introductory review offers concluding remarks that the authors hope will influence and guide future research endeavours The book will be invaluable to educators students and policymakers interested in information and guidance on managing sustainable tourism Several chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Sustainable Tourism
