Starting from newspapers, magazines, books, post cards to memo pads and business order forms, each are the products of printing industry. Printing is a process for reproducing text and image typically with ink on paper using a printing press. There are various types of printing process, for example, offset printing, modern printing, gravure printing, flexographic printing, etc. Offset printing is a widely used printing technique where the inked image is transferred from a plate to a rubber blanket, then to the printing surface. When used in combination with the lithographic process, the offset technique employs a flat image carrier on which the image to be printed obtains ink from ink rollers while the non-printing area attracts a film of water, keeping the non-printing areas ink-free. Gravure printing is a printing technique where the image to be printed is made up of small depressions in the surface of the printing plate. It is divided into three broad product areas: packaging printing, publication printing, and speciality printing. Printing technology is often carried out as a large-scale industrial process and is an essential part of publishing and transaction printing. This is the age of hi-fi jets and computers.
