The Youth Dividend Jan H. Hofmeyr, 2012

Student Politics in Africa M. Luescher, Manja Klemencic, 2016-05-12 The second volume of the African Higher Education Dynamics Series brings together the research of an international network of higher education scholars with interest in higher education and student politics in Africa. Most authors are early career academics who teach and conduct research in universities across the continent and who came together for a research project and related workshops and a symposium on student representation in African higher education governance. The book includes theoretical chapters on student organising, student activism and representation, chapters on historical and current developments in student politics in Anglophone and Francophone Africa, and in depth case studies on student representation and activism in a cross section of universities and countries. The book provides a unique resource for academics, university leaders and student affairs professionals as well as student leaders and policy makers in Africa and elsewhere.

Student Activism in the Global South Kurauone Masungu, 2024-09-01. This book makes an original conceptual and empirical contribution to debates on the role of student activism in enhancing social justice within education in the Global South, using South Africa as a case study. The book explores the development of higher education students' political capabilities through student activism, that is the freedom to express political ideas and engage in protests, including the following key capabilities: participation, dialogue, practical reasoning, voice, emotional expression, contextual knowledge and physical wellbeing. The author considers the possibility of enhancing justice and democracy in higher education through the formation of such student freedoms. The book will be of interest to academics and researchers in student activism, higher education and social justice, as well as institutional staff members with knowledge of student governance, members of student representative councils and higher education administrators.

Higher Education, 2023-11-02. COVID wrought havoc on the world's economic systems. Higher education did not escape the ravages brought on by the pandemic, as institutions of higher education around the world faced major upheavals in their educational delivery systems. Some institutions were prepared for the required transition to online learning. Most were not. Whether prepared or not, educators rose to the challenge. The innovativeness of educators met the challenges as digital learning replaced the face to face environment. In fact, some of the distance models proved so engaging that many students no longer desire a return to the face to face model. As with all transitions, some things were lost while others were gained. This book examines practice in the field as institutions struggled to face the worst global pandemic in the last century. The book is organized into four sections: Perils and Promises, The State of Online Education, Goals and Challenges of Online Learning, and Innovations in the Age of COVID. It presents various perspectives from educators around the world to illustrate the struggles and triumphs of those facing new challenges and implementing new ideas to empower the educational process. These discussions shed light on the impact of the pandemic and the future of higher education post COVID. Higher education has been forever changed and higher education as it once was may never return. While many questions arise, the achievements in meeting and overcoming the pandemic illustrate the creativity and innovativeness of educators around the world who inspired future generations of learners to reach new heights.
