

EFFECTS OF CAFFEINE ON THE HUMAN ORGANISM

4

Project Goals and Objectives

This capstone project has three goals:

- Analyze the existing research related to caffeine consumption.
- Conduct research on the participants to detect the amount of caffeine consumption and its effect on students' health.
- Provide recommendations to students about caffeine consumption. (...)

Methods

The research was conducted on 15 students, aged 20, who were currently studying at Northern State University. All participants were women and had no health problems. Participants received personal diaries and questionnaires that they needed to fill in every day (...)

Integrating Work in Theological Education Kathleen A. Cahalan,Edward Foley,Gordon S. Mikoski,2017-03-09 If only we could do a better job of helping students at connecting the dots theological educators commonly lament Integration often proposed as a solution to the woes of professional education for ministry would help students integrate knowledge skills spirituality and integrity When these remain disconnected incompetence ensues and the cost runs high for churches denominations and ministers themselves However we fail in thinking that integrating work is for students alone It is a multifaceted constructive process of learning that is contextual reflective and dialogical It aims toward important ends competent leaders who can guide Christian communities today It entails rhythms not stages and dynamic movement including disintegration Integrating work is learning in motion across domains and among and between persons It is social and communal born of a life of learning together for faculty staff administrators and students It is work that bridges the long standing gaps between school ministry practice and life It s a verb not a noun Here a diverse group of theological educators through descriptive case studies theological reflection and theory building offer a distinctive contribution to understanding integrating work and how best to achieve it across three domains in community curriculums and courses
