Dear Reference Chair:

I am writing to tell you about a wonderful young woman who will be attending your college this fall as a (classification such as freshman, sophomore, or junior) and going through sorority recruitment. Her name is (Jane Doe), but we all call her (Janie). She would make an outstanding member in your chapter. Both her mother and sister are members of (sorority name).

Janie is a charming, enthusiastic, intelligent, happy, well-adjusted and witty young woman. She is very organized and well-liked by her peers. She was selected as an outstanding young woman from Polk High School. She has been a member of the tennis team for four years and plays the piano. Janie is also the editor of her high school yearbook. Other activities include participation in student government and co-chairing the dance marathon this year.

Janie volunteers in her church nursery and at the Salvation Army shelter. In the summer, she teaches tennis at a local camp. She is a member of the National Honor Society, the Quill and Scroll Society, and a National Merit Finalist. As you can guess, her scholastic achievements are outstanding with a 3.8 GPA. Her class ranking is tenth out of 300 students in her graduating class.

I have known Janie personally for most of her life, as she is a good friend of my daughter. I consider her part of my family. Janie's parents, John and Jane Doe, are both active in the community and could support the financial obligations of being a member of a Greek organization. I cannot say enough positive things about her. Please give Janie strong consideration, as I know other sororities will be looking at her as well. She would be a wonderful asset to (sorority name).

Sincerely,
Your Name

Founded in 1945 by John H. Johnson, it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine. Black Greek-letter Organizations in the Twenty-First Century Gregory S. Parks, 2008-06-13 During the twentieth century, Black Greek Letter Organizations (BGLOs) united college students dedicated to excellence, fostered kinship, and uplifted African Americans. Members of these organizations include remarkable and influential individuals such as Martin Luther King Jr., Congresswoman Barbara Jordan, novelist Toni Morrison, and Wall Street pioneer Reginald F. Lewis. Despite the profound influence of these groups, many now question the continuing relevance of BGLOs, arguing that their golden age has passed. Partly because of their perceived link to hip-hop culture, Black fraternities and sororities have been unfairly reduced to a media stereotype, a world of hazing without any real substance. The general public knows very little about BGLOs, and surprisingly, the members themselves often do not have a thorough understanding of their history and culture or of the issues currently facing their organizations. To foster a greater engagement with the history and contributions of BGLOs, Black Greek Letter Organizations in the Twenty-First Century: Our Fight Has Just Begun brings together an impressive group of authors to explore the contributions and continuing possibilities of BGLOs and their members. Editor Gregory S. Parks and the contributing authors provide historical context for the development of BGLOs, exploring their service activities as well as their relationships with other prominent African American institutions. The book examines BGLOs' responses to a number of contemporary issues, including non-Black membership, homosexuality within BGLOs, and the perception of BGLOs as educated gangs. As illustrated by the organized response of BGLO members to the racial injustice they observed in Jena, Louisiana, these organizations still have a vital mission. Both internally and externally, BGLOs struggle to forge a relevant identity for the new century. Internally, these groups wrestle with many issues, including hazing, homophobia, petty intergroup competition, and the difficulty of bridging the divide between college and alumni members Externally BGLOs face the challenge of rededicating themselves to their communities and leading an aggressive campaign against modern forms of racism sexism and other types of fear driven behavior By embracing the history of these organizations and exploring their continuing viability and relevance Black Greek Letter Organizations in the Twenty first Century demonstrates that BGLOs can create a positive and enduring future and that their most important work lies ahead Women at Indiana University Andrea
