

1. An engineer at NASA is investigating the impact of meteorites on the planets. He performs experiments in a vacuum by dropping metal spheres of different sizes and different heights above a horizontal bed of sand. In one experiment, a metal sphere of mass 0.1kg is dropped from a height of 1.2 metres. The sphere makes a depression in the sand of 2cm.

(Gravitational field strength, $g = 10 \text{ N kg}^{-1}$)

- i) Calculate the potential energy of the sphere.
- ii) Calculate the velocity of the sphere just before hitting the surface of the sand.
(Hint: $E_p = E_k$)
- iii) Calculate the average retarding force acting on the sphere as it comes to rest in the sand. When the object passes through sand it will lose its kinetic energy to overcome the resisting force by sand.

(Hint : Retarding force or stopping force is simply the force that is applied in the opposite direction to the direction of motion thus, producing deceleration in a body or produces a negative acceleration.)

(Hint : Force x displacement = Kinetic Energy, will prove in class)

Thus, if we find the Kinetic energy using $E_k = \frac{mv^2}{2}$ we can find the retarding force using $F \times d = \text{K.E.}$

2. Brandon is loading boxes onto the tray of a flatbed truck. He uses a ramp of length 8m to assist him. He pushes a box of mass 120 kg up the ramp with a force of 200N. The box moves through a vertical distance of 0.8m.

(Gravitational field strength, $g = 10 \text{ N kg}^{-1}$)

- i) Calculate the change in gravitational potential energy of the box.
- ii) Calculate the work done by the 200N force.
- iii) Calculate the efficiency of the ramp.

Note : N kg^{-1} is equivalent to ms^{-2} . Will prove in class

Gross,2003-12-16 Exceptionally Gifted Children is unique The first edition of this book published in 1993 introduced 15 remarkable children some of the most gifted young people ever studied and traced their path through school exploring their academic achievements and in some cases enforced underachievement their emotional development their social relationships and their family relationships and upbringing This new edition reviews these early years but also follows the young people over the subsequent ten years into adulthood No previous study has traced so closely and so sensitively the intellectual social and emotional development of highly gifted young people This 20 year study reveals the ongoing negative academic and social effects of prolonged underachievement and social isolation imposed on gifted children by inappropriate curriculum and class placement and shows clearly the long lasting benefits of thoughtfully planned individual educational programs The young adults of this study speak out and show how what happened in school has influenced and still influences many aspects of their lives Miraca Gross provides a clear practical blueprint for teachers and parents who recognise the special learning needs of gifted children and seek to respond effectively Changing Schools, Changing Practices Dr. Manfred Lang (Dipl.-Psychologe),1999 Making it tangible. Learning outcomes in science education Sascha Bernholt,Knut Neumann,Peter Nentwig,2012 One of the central features in current educational reforms is a focus on learning outcomes Many countries have established or revised standards to describe what teachers are supposed to teach and students are expected to learn More recently the emphasis has shifted to considerations of how standards can be operationalized in order to make the outcomes of educational efforts more tangible This book is the result of a symposium held in Kiel that was arranged by two science education groups one at the IPN Leibniz Institute for Science and Mathematics Education at the University of Kiel in Germany and the other at the University of York UK The seminar brought together renowned experts from 12 countries with different notions of the nature and quality of learning outcomes The aim was to clarify central conceptions and approaches for a better understanding among the international science education community The book is divided into five parts In Part A the organizers set the scene describing the rationale for arranging the symposium Part B provides a broad overview about different approaches challenges and pitfalls on the road to the clarification of meaningful and fruitful learning outcomes The set of papers in Part C provides deep insights into different although comparable approaches which aim to frame to assess and to promote learning and learning outcomes in science education Smaller projects are presented as well as broad coordinated national programs The papers in Part D outline the individual historical development from different national perspectives reflecting the deficits and problems that led to current reforms Finally a summary of the organizers analyses the conclusions from different vantage points

Global Perspective on Issues and Trends in Educational Translanguaging Bautista, Jude Cañero,Kim, Jean,2025-05-29 The growing superdiversity around the world now appears to be the norm In traditional English speaking inner circle nations it is becoming increasingly rare to find classrooms with students who come from monocultural and monolingual backgrounds However teaching practices remain based on Anglocentric standards and perspectives even when most of the English speakers in the world are no longer just the monolingual speakers of the language Research in bilingualism and multilingualism reverberate the potential of translanguaging as a pedagogical practice This is to leverage all the linguistic cultural and semiotic resources of learners so that they can actively engage in the language literacy and content area learning processes in the classroom However even though it has gained ground in theory and research it has not been upheld in instructional practice especially in the Anglophone nations While some regions view translanguaging as a pathway to educational justice others face barriers such as limited resources administrative constraints or lack of teacher training Despite its promise concerns remain around the selective use of languages and the risk of reinforcing existing linguistic hierarchies

Global Perspective on Issues and Trends in Educational Translanguaging explores translanguaging pedagogies from both monolingual English speaking contexts and multilingual and multicultural contexts It examines a monolingual multilingual pairing of theoretical research and practical perspectives from around the world assessing how translanguaging pedagogies are practiced and researched worldwide This book covers topics such as indigenous studies migrant learners and pedagogy and is a useful resource for educators language experts academicians researchers and scientists
