Handbook of Reading Disability Research Anne McGill-Franzen, Richard L. Allington, 2010-09-17 Bringing together a wide range of research on reading disabilities this comprehensive Handbook extends current discussion and thinking beyond a narrowly defined psychometric perspective Emphasizing that learning to read proficiently is a long term developmental process involving many interventions of various kinds all keyed to individual developmental needs it addresses traditional questions What is the nature or causes of reading disabilities How are reading disabilities assessed How should reading disabilities be remediated To what extent is remediation possible but from multiple or alternative perspectives Taking incursions into the broader research literature represented by linguistic and anthropological paradigms as well as psychological and educational research the volume is on the front line in exploring the relation of reading disability to learning and language to poverty and prejudice and to instruction and schooling The editors and authors are distinguished scholars with extensive research experience and publication records and numerous honors and awards from professional organizations representing the range of disciplines in the field of reading disabilities Throughout their contributions are contextualized within the framework of educators struggling to develop concrete instructional practices that meet the learning needs of the lowest achieving readers

Developing Chinese EFL Learners' Generic Competence Liming Deng, Qiujin Chen, Yanyan Zhang, 2014-05-28 This work investigates the development of English as a Foreign Language EFL learners generic competence in reading writing and translation within the particular Chinese classroom context It provides a new perspective for the current teaching and research in reading writing translation within the EFL contexts and offers an insightful framework for pedagogical applications in language learning and teaching Its findings will be extremely valuable not only in local situations but also more generally in a wider regional and global context as well. The book employs a series of research tools including pre research and post research questionnaires pre test and post test of reading writing translation multi faceted writing portfolios including reflection reports textual analysis and in depth interviews. It involves 209 participants from a primary university in Wuhan among whom 171 are undergraduates and 38 are postgraduates. And it draws on the analysis of such varied multi sourced data both qualitatively and quantitatively. Genre based teaching is playing a critical role in initiating EFL learners into the discourse community of the target language. Developing EFL learners generic competence is viewed as the ultimate goal in the process of teaching and learning. This monograph effectively demonstrates that like genre based English for Specific Purposes ESP pedagogies it is also possible to take advantage of already acquired genre knowledge for use in EFL learning contexts. It offers an impressive view of the direction in which genre based applications are likely to take in the coming years.
