Global Force David Forsyth, 2016-04-15 This volume emerged from an international research colloquium jointly organised by National Museums Scotland and the Scottish Centre for Diaspora Studies University of Edinburgh funded by the Scottish Government and administered by the Royal Society of Edinburgh Historians and museum curators from Australia Canada New Zealand and South Africa were invited to join with their Scottish counterparts to consider the functioning and the meaning of military Scottishness in different Commonwealth countries and in Britain from the late Victorian period to the present day with a particular focus on the impact of the First World War Another key objective was to throw light on the hidden culture of social networking which potentially operated behind local regiments and military units amongst Scotland's global diaspora This edited collection provides a comparative overview of the nineteenth century emergence of military Scottishness and explores how the construction and performance of Scottish military identity has evolved in different

Commonwealth countries over the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries In particular it looks at the ways in which Scottish volunteer regiments in Commonwealth countries variously sought to draw upon align themselves with or at certain key moments redefine the assertions of martial identity which Highland regiments represented

Phytochemistry, the Military and Health Andrew G. Mtewa, Chukwuebuka Egbuna, 2021-03-02

Phytochemistry the Military and Health

Phytotoxins and Natural Defenses comes as a response to the gap that there has for so long existed between phytochemistry and survival of both service personnel and civilian communities during and after conflicts Armed conflicts cause a lot of devastation to communities and should be avoided as much as it can be possible The devastation is usually evident in service provisions such as Health Education Water and Food among many others Both service personnel and civilians are affected to various degrees Facilities usually end up being physically destroyed with no essential supplies and or having dysfunctional systems Going with untreated wounds communicable and non communicable diseases for weeks with no medical interventions due to the conflicts disease burdens heavily weigh down on communities as well as security personnel To make the situation even more complicated masses of people are forced to migrate for safety and security reasons likely going with diseases along wherever they go In such instances phytochemicals become handy in providing solutions from first aid basic analgesia antimicrobials and the general improvement of health Phytochemicals are known to play a major role in the day to day management of diseases and health There has been much research into their effectiveness as community medicines and as alternatives to conventional drugs However the role that phytochemicals play in the military counterterrorism and security has been overlooked

Phytochemistry the Military and Health

Phytotoxins and Natural Defenses discusses the roles that phytochemicals play as friends and foes in the military including insights aimed to help develop antidotes against phytochemicals and other chemical agents used maliciously as weapons Filling a gap between drug discovery security and emergency medicine this book describes which plants can be categorized for protection and controls which can be helpful in times of conflicts and soon after conflicts in military operations and those that can be used as deterrents and as emergency medicines Carefully designed to show the contribution that phytochemicals play in safety and security this book is useful for researchers regulators and anyone interested in plant chemistry Covers the contribution that phytochemicals play in safety and security Contains insights that will help in the development of antidotes against phytochemical and other chemical weapons Categorizes plants in terms of their usefulness as well as the potential security risks they possess

Abdulai,2016-04-01 In African Centred Management Education Professor Abdulai looks critically at the failings of management education in Africa and how that has impacted growth and development efforts especially at this critical stage in the continent's positive growth and development trajectory He concludes that Africa's current positive economic growth cannot be sustained without a significant contribution from its human capital He adds that the outstanding economic record of Asian economies in recent decades dramatically illustrates how important human capital is to growth These countries lacking natural resources and importing practically all their energy requirements have grown rapidly by relying on a well trained educated and conscientious workforce Professor Abdulai believes that Africa too can sustain its current growth and development by effectively combining its abundant natural resources with its human capital to attain its economic development but this will require an African cadre of well trained managers at the helm of both private and public sector institutions For this to become a reality management education in Africa will have to play a significant role but the author argues that it cannot be effective by continually mimicking the West in the programmes it delivers It must come up with innovative and relevant pedagogy that will address the special challenges that the continent faces and deliver an African centred management education As well as pointing to the failures of management education in Africa Abdulai offers suggestions as to how to make management education really contribute to the education of Africans in order to sustain current and future development Kenya's Running Women Michelle M Sikes,2023-12-01 Since Pauline Konga's breakthrough performance at the 1996 summer Olympics in Atlanta the world has become accustomed to seeing Kenyan women medal at major championships sweep marathons and set world records Yet little is known about the pioneer generation of women who paved the way for Kenya's reputation as an international powerhouse in women's track and field In Kenya's Running Women A History historian and former professional runner Michelle M Sikes details the triumphs and many challenges these women faced from the advent of Kenya's athletics program in the colonial era through the professionalization of running in the 1980s and 1990s Sikes reveals how over time running became a vehicle for Kenyan women to expand the boundaries of acceptable female behavior Kenya's Running Women demonstrates the necessity of including women in histories of African sport and of incorporating sport into studies of African gender and nation building Mandell, Douglas, and Bennett's Principles and Practice of Infectious Diseases E-Book John E.
