British Asian Fiction Neil Murphy, Wai-chew Sim, 2008 In this outstanding collection of essays editors Neil Murphy and Wai chew Sim seek not so much to demarcate the field of British Asian fiction but to offer due acknowledgment of the artistic merit of the works of selected authors and simultaneously register their cultural significance This volume demonstrates in situ the virtues of commentary that engages in a substantial manner with formal and aesthetic considerations even as it implicates the discourses of alterity that dominate contemporary cultural criticism Additionally the essays delineate the complex subject positions explored by authors and texts and focus on the way writers negotiate the exigencies of their location within and between different social formations If it is the case that British literature can no longer be discussed in monocultural terms because of the impact of the writers under consideration it is also the case that the diverse trans cultural positions they explore are often less specified than proclaimed Addressing difference commensurability and form related notions of truth content these essays enlarge our understanding of the range of British and affiliated identities as well as the cultural contexts from which they arose Working as academics and critics from Singapore a useful vantage point Murphy and Sim have extended the parameters of British Asian to include not just writers from South Asia as is traditionally the case but writers whose parents or who themselves have migrated to Britain from other regions of Asia for example Japan Hong Kong and Malaysia This initiative has made it possible for professors Murphy and Sim to bring together first an interestingly varied group of authors among them those who came to prominence in the 1980s Salman Rushdie Timothy Mo Kazuo Ishiguro as well as their younger contemporaries Meera Syal Romesh Gunasekera Monica Ali Hari Kunzru Ooi Yang May and second a broad and diverse range of novels that span Timothy Mo's Sour Sweet 1982 and Tariq Ali's A Sultan in Palermo 2005 the fourth volume in his Islam quintet

After Raymond Williams Hywel Dix, 2013-09-15 After Raymond Williams Cultural Materialism and the Break Up of Britain has two broad aims The first is to re-examine the concept of cultural materialism the term used by Raymond Williams to describe his theory of how writing and other cultural forms relate to general social and historical processes Using this theory the second objective is to explore the material ways in which contemporary British writing participates in one particular political process that of the break up of Britain The general trajectory of the book is a matter of superseding Williams the early chapters are devoted to extrapolating Williams's materialist theory of cultural forms while later chapters are concerned with applying this theoretical material to a series of readings of books and films produced in the years since his death in 1988 This volume provides a detailed account of some of the writing produced in Scotland and Wales in the years surrounding political devolution and also considers the ways in which different subcultural communities use fiction to renegotiate their relationships with the British whole
