Deen, 2015-09-02 Geographical Knowledge Construction and Production Teacher and Student Perspectives is a readable and illuminating account of three high school classrooms in suburban Atlanta Georgia It challenges the narrow focus of the Advanced Placement AP programme as a tool for admission into colleges and universities in the United States The research provides insight into the College Board s AP programme and argues for teaching and learning that is transformative and geared toward equipping students with the skills and knowledge necessary to confront the challenges of the 21st century In particular it advocates for geographic education that is anchored in the structure of the subject teasing wherever possible the contradictions and tensions embedded in the complexities of facts relating to people and places This book is essential reading for professors and students of education teachers and students of AP courses parents administrators and state and federal agencies vested in the AP programme Novice Mathematics Teachers' Professional Learning Xiaoli Lu, 2022-05-04 This book investigates three novice high school mathematics teachers professional learning processes in the early stages of their careers at schools in Shanghai China Teacher professional learning is examined as a complex and dynamic system that connects both cognitive and situated perspectives on learning theory Inspiring mathematics teachers to adopt student focused pedagogies is challenging particularly in China where tensions in teacher centred content focused and examination oriented practices are predominant The three novice teachers who participated in this study brought different beliefs and knowledge derived from their different individual experiences to bear on their teaching practices However they were strongly influenced by the environments in which they taught and mainly adopted a professional learning approach to teacher centred practices despite reporting that they favoured student centred teaching practices The study also observed professional learning towards student centred pedagogical aspects in a single teacher case with mentorship support indicating that student centred pedagogies may be promoted within the constraints of the existing dominant teaching practice
