

BOWLING FOR COLUMBINE

"Are we a nation of gun nuts or are we just nuts?"
Michael Moore

"Michael Moore's controversial documentary about gun control in America is at once horrifying and hilarious. He asks big, probing questions about the world's sole superpower, questions that are seldom raised on so public a stage."
Daily Telegraph

"True-to-life filmmaker Michael Moore's heartfelt documentary – as entertaining as it is politically damning – looks deep into America's love affair with guns. A brave and important piece of filmmaking that dares to ask questions that many people would prefer remain unsaid. This isn't just about guns: it's about the psychology of a nation whose every move has global implications."
Empire Magazine

"Bowling for Columbine ... is extremely serious without being solemn, passionate in a deliberately laid-back fashion ... Moore is a radical journalist in the American muckraking tradition whose weapons are satire, send-up and confrontation."
The Observer

"This is a big, brawling mix of ideas and interviews, with wacky clips, spoofs and pastiches, some devastatingly funny and pertinent, some of them pretty lame"
The Guardian

Bowling for Columbine is a 2002 American documentary film written, directed, produced by, and starring Michael Moore. It brought Moore international attention as a rising filmmaker and won numerous awards, including the Academy Award for Best Documentary Feature, the Independent Spirit Award for Best Documentary Feature, and the César Award for Best Foreign Film.^[2]

The film explores what Moore suggests are the causes for the Columbine High School massacre and other acts of violence with guns. Moore focuses on the background and environment in which the massacre took place and some common public opinions and assumptions about related issues. The film looks into the nature of violence in the United States.

In Moore's discussions with various people – including South Park co-creator Matt Stone, the National Rifle Association's then-president Charlton Heston, and musician Marilyn Manson – he seeks to explain why the Columbine massacre occurred and why the United States has a high violent crime rate (especially crimes involving guns).
