A Republic, If We Can Teach It Jeffrey Sikkenga, David Davenport, 2024-05-14 America faces a crisis in civic education that imperils the long term health of our country Too many Americans especially young people do not have the knowledge of our history and principles necessary to sustain our republic Recent national test results reveal the sad state of civic education in our schools The 2022 report of the National Assessment of Educational Progress showed that only 22 percent of eighth graders tested were proficient or better in their knowledge of civics and proficiency in US history dropped to an anemic 13 percent The Annenberg Policy Center reported in 2019 that only 39 percent of Americans could name the three branches of government while its 2017 study showed that 37 percent could not name a single right in the First Amendment How can we keep a republic as Benjamin Franklin put it if we don't know what a republic is At a deeper level the crisis is not simply about facts and information If the next generations of Americans do not come to understand that our history and principles are good and that they merit their affection our experiment in self government could fail Action is needed now to reverse the trend
