Truth About Stories Thomas King:

The Truth About Stories Thomas King, 2003-11-01 Winner of the 2003 Trillium Book Award Stories are wondrous things award winning author and scholar Thomas King declares in his 2003 CBC Massey Lectures And they are dangerous Beginning with a traditional Native oral story King weaves his way through literature and history religion and politics popular culture and social protest gracefully elucidating North America's relationship with its Native peoples Native culture has deep ties to storytelling and yet no other North American culture has been the subject of more erroneous stories The Indian of fact as King says bears little resemblance to the literary Indian the dying Indian the construct so powerfully and often destructively projected by White North America With keen perception and wit King illustrates that stories are the key to and only hope for human understanding He compels us to listen well

The Truth about Stories Thomas King, 2005 Explores how stories shape who we are how we understand and interact with other people and how Native American culture ties into storytelling from creation stories to personal experiences historical anecdotes to social injustices racist propaganda to works of contemporary Native American literature

The Anansi Reader Lynn Coady, 2007 In 1967 then unknown writers David Godfrey and Dennis Lee founded a small press they grandly named The House of Anansi after an African trickster spider god Their goal was to publish groundbreaking new Canadian work in three core genres literary fiction poetry and topical nonfiction Forty years later Anansi is not only going strong but enjoying a fascinating creative renaissance bolstered by both its important backlist and its renewed commitment to seeking out the best new writers and ideas to publish alongside its established ones Assembled by award winning writer Lynn Coady The Anansi Reader features excerpts from ten of the best books from each decade of the existence of the press for a total of 40 entries Samples from Lynn Crosbie's Queen Rat Northrop Frye's The Educated Imagination and Kevin Connolly's Drift are among the treasures included In a thoughtful coda Coady shows readers the future with selections from seven exciting works in progress coming from Anansi in the next two years

Thomas King Eva Gruber, 2012 Thomas King is one of North America's foremost Native writers best known for his novels including Green Grass Running Water for the Dreadful Water mysteries and for collections of short stories such as One Good Story That One and A Short History of Indians in Canada But King is also a poet a literary and cultural critic and a noted filmmaker photographer and scriptwriter and performer for radio His career and oeuvre have been validated by literary awards and by the inclusion of his writing in college and university curricula Critical responses to King's work have been abundant yet most of this criticism consists of journal articles and to date only one book length study of his work exists Thomas King Works and Impact fills this gap by providing an up to date comprehensive overview of all major aspects of King's oeuvre as well as its reception and influence It brings together expert scholars to discuss King's role in and impact on Native literature and its processes of canonization and to offer in depth analyses of his multifaceted body of work The volume will be of interest to students and scholars of literature English and Native American studies and to King aficionados

The

Nature of Inquisitorial Processes in Administrative Regimes Laverne Jacobs, Sasha Baglay, 2016-03-03 Inquisitorial processes refers to the inquiry powers of administrative governance and this book examines the use of these powers in administrative law across seven jurisdictions The book brings together recent developments in mixed inquisitorial adversarial administrative decision making on a hitherto neglected area of comparative administrative process and institutional design Reaching important conclusions about their own jurisdictions and raising questions which may be explored in others the book s chapters are comparative They explore the terminology and scope of the concept of inquisitorial process justifications for the use of inquiry powers the effectiveness of inquisitorial processes and the implications of the adoption of such powers The book will set in motion continued dialogue about the inherent challenges of balancing policy goals fairness resources and institutional design within administrative law decision making by offering theoretical practical and empirical analyses This will be a valuable book to government policy makers administrative law decision makers lawyers and academics

Shakespeare and Canada Irena R. Makaryk, Kathryn Prince, 2017-03-08 Shakespeare in Canada is the result of a collective desire to explore the role that Shakespeare has played in Canada over the past two hundred years but also to comprehend the way our country s culture has influenced our interpretation of his literary career and heritage What function does Shakespeare serve in Canada today How has he been reconfigured in different ways for particular Canadian contexts The authors of this book attempt to answer these questions while imagining what the future might hold for William Shakespeare in Canada Covering the Stratford Festival the cult CBC television program Slings and Arrows major Canadian critics such as Northrop Frye and Marshall McLuhan the influential acting teacher Neil Freiman the rise of Qu b cois and First Nation approaches to Shakespeare and Shakespeare s place in secondary schools today this collection reflects the diversity and energy of Shakespeare s afterlife in Canada Collectively the authors suggest that Shakespeare continues to offer Canadians remembrance of ourselves This is a refreshingly original and impressive contribution to Shakespeare studies a considerable achievement in any work on the history of one of the central figures in the western literary canon Published in English

Where Happiness Dwells Robin Ridington, Jillian Ridington, 2013-02-25 The Dane zaa people have lived in BC s Peace River area for thousands of years Elders documented their peoples history and worldview passing them on through storytelling Language loss however threatens to break the bonds of knowledge transmission At the request of the Doig River First Nations anthropologists Robin and Jillian Ridington present a history of the Dane zaa people based on oral histories collected over a half century of fieldwork These powerful stories not only preserve traditional knowledge for future generations they also tell the inspiring story of how the Dane zaa learned to succeed and flourish in the modern world

Racism in Southern Alberta and Anti-racist Activism for Change Caroline Hodes, Glenda Tibe Bonifacio, 2023-04-18 Drawing on reflective personal narrative experiential research and critical theoretical engagement this collection connects localized experiences with broader structural and systemic forms of intersectional racism These detailed examinations of the various forms of racism faced by immigrants and Indigenous people living and working in Southern Alberta reveal how institutional racism continues to saturate modern Canadian culture and practice

Storied Communities Hester Lessard, Rebecca Johnson, Jeremy Webber, 2011-01-01 Political communities are defined and often contested through stories. Scholars have long recognized that two foundational sets of stories, narratives of contact and narratives of arrival, helped to define settler societies. We are only beginning to understand how ongoing issues of migration and settlement are linked to issues of indigenous settler contact. Storied Communities disrupts the assumption in many works that indigenous and immigrant identities fall into two separate streams of analysis. The authors do not attempt to build a new master narrative; they instead juxtapose narratives of contact and arrival as they explore key themes: narrative and narrative form, the nature and hazards of storytelling in the political realm, and the institutional and theoretical implications of foundation narratives and storytelling. By bringing to light the links between narratives of contact and narratives of arrival, this volume opens up new ways to imagine, sustain, and transform political communities.

Teaching Social Justice Using Postcolonial Texts Geraldine Balzer, Teresa Strong-Wilson, Anne Burke, 2023-07-28 This book explores how teachers can re-examine their emotional investments in enacting dominant settler values through changing their text selection and teaching practices. Based on a longitudinal qualitative research study conducted by a national team of literacy scholars in collaboration with practicing literacy teachers at eight sites across Canada, the book investigates how groups of teachers working collaboratively in inquiry groups develop and implement curriculum to promote their own and their students' understandings of social justice in postcolonial and settler spaces. In particular, the book highlights the rich and dynamic landscape of postcolonial authors, illustrators, and texts; the development of culturally sensitive curricula and critical pedagogies possible in addressing contemporary and historical issues, both local and global. This book is primarily of interest to literacy scholars, literacy instructors, teacher educators in teacher education programs, educational leaders, practicing teachers from the K-12 spectrum, and school district staff and policy makers with responsibilities for or interests in the potential of literacy and literature engagement for social justice education. The book is also of interest to postsecondary educators and teacher educators wishing to use literature in social justice, anti-racist, and anti-oppressive courses.

ohpikinâwasowin / Growing a Child Leona Makokis, Ralph Bodor, Avery Calhoun, Stephanie Tyler, 2020-08-26T00:00:00Z Western theory and practice are over-represented in child welfare services for Indigenous peoples; not the other way around. Contributors to this collection invert the long-held colonial relationship between Indigenous peoples and systems of child welfare in Canada. By understanding the problem as the prevalence of the Western universe in child welfare services rather than Indigenous peoples' efforts to understand and support Indigenous children and families, they are fundamentally transformed. Child welfare for Indigenous peoples must be informed and guided by Indigenous practices and understandings. Privileging the iyiniw (First people/people of the land) universe leads to reinvigorating traditional knowledges, practices, and ceremonies related to children and families that have existed for centuries The chapters of ohpikin wasowin Growing a Child describe wisdom seeking journeys and service provision changes that occurred in Treaty 6 Treaty 7 and Treaty 8 territory on Turtle Island Many of the teachings are nehiyaw Cree and some are from the Blackfoot people Taken together this collection forms a whole related to the Turtle Lodge Teachings which expresses nehiyaw stages of development and works to undo the colonial trappings of Canada s current child welfare system

Methodological Challenges in Nature-Culture and Environmental History Research Jocelyn Thorpe,Stephanie Rutherford,L. Anders Sandberg,2016-11-10 This book examines the challenges and possibilities of conducting cultural environmental history research today Disciplinary commitments certainly influence the questions scholars ask and the ways they seek out answers but some methodological challenges go beyond the boundaries of any one discipline The book examines how to account for the fact that humans are not the only actors in history yet dominate archival records how to attend to the non visual senses when traditional sources offer only a two dimensional non sensory version of the past how to decolonize research in and beyond the archives and how effectively to use sources and means of communication made available in the digital age This book will be a valuable resource for those interested in environmental history and politics sustainable development and historical geography

Affect, Embodiment, and Place in Critical Literacy Kimberly Lenters,Mairi McDermott,2019-08-22 This book explores the impact of sensation affect ethics and place on literacy learning from early childhood through to adult education Chapters bridge the divide between theory and practice to consider how contemporary teaching and learning can promote posthuman values and perspectives By offering a posthuman approach to literacy research and pedagogy Affect Embodiment and Place in Critical Literacy re works the theory practice divide in literacy education to emphasize the ways in which learning is an affective and embodied process merging in a particular environment Written by literacy educators and international literacy researchers this volume is divided into four sections focussing on Moving with sensation and affect becoming worldmakers with ethics and difference relationships that matter in curriculum and place before drawing together everything in a concise conclusion Affect Embodiment and Place in Critical Literacy is the perfect resource for researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of literacy education and philosophy of education as well as those seeking to explore the benefits of a posthumanism approach when conceptualising theory and practice in literacy education

Autonomy and the Situated Self Rachel Haliburton,2013-11-26 Bioethics tells a heroic story about its origins and purpose The impetus for its contemporary development can be traced to concern about widespread paternalism in medicine mistreatment of research subjects used in medical experimentation and questions about the implication of technological developments in medical practice Bioethics then began as a defender of the interests of patients and the rights of research participants and understood itself to play an important role as a critic of powerful interests in medicine and medical practice Autonomy and the Situated Self argues that as bioethics has become successful it no longer clearly lives up to these founding ideals and it offers a critique of the way in which contemporary bioethics has been co-opted by the very institutions it once sought with good reason to criticize and transform. In the process it has become mainstream, moved from occupying the perspective of a critical outsider to enjoying the status of a respected insider whose primary role is to defend existing institutional arrangements and its own privileged position. The mainstreaming of bioethics has resulted in its domestication; it is at home in the institutions it would once have viewed with skepticism and a central part of practices it would once have challenged. Contemporary bioethics is increasingly dominated by a conception of autonomy that detaches the value of choice from the value of the things chosen and the central role occupied by this conception makes it difficult for the bioethicist to make ethical judgments. Consequently, despite its very public successes, contemporary bioethics is largely failing to offer the ethical guidance it purports to be able to provide. In addition to providing a critique, this book offers an alternative framework that is designed to allow bioethicists to address the concerns that led to the creation of bioethics in the first place. This alternative framework is oriented around a conception of autonomy that works within the ethical guidelines provided by a contemporary form of virtue ethics and which connects the value of autonomous choice to a conception of human flourishing.

Children's Ministry in the Way of Jesus David M. Csinos, Ivy Beckwith, 2013-09-30 Attract kids to church the logic often goes and you get parents in the pews. All that's left is to get the kids out of the way. Here children's ministers David Csinos and Ivy Beckwith draw on research in human development and spiritual formation to show how children become disciples and churches become centers of lifelong discipleship.

Tending to Stories in Feminist Theologies Helena Kadmos, Katharine Massam, 2025-09-16 Tending to Stories in Feminist Theologies is interested in the place of story tellers in communities of hope. Where some theologies wrestle for clarity of definition, feminist and other theologies of liberation begin from experience and tend towards story as a vehicle for speaking of the Divine. Ambiguity and precision both find their place. This collection embraces different materials to explore the place of stories and narrative within feminist theology to explore how meaning happens to seek justice and to forge compassion. As for theology, so too with form. This volume does not just discuss but actively demonstrates a variety of ways in which stories can be heard and held. Between and within chapters the authors weave together artwork, literature, creative non-fiction and poetic form with critically informed and academic exposition to invite reflection on the place of story in creating solidarity and enabling community. The book contributes to scholarly conversations on feminist theological method, on the relationship between the arts and theology, and on the dialogue between secular and sacred in Australasia and elsewhere.

The Native American Renaissance Alan R. Velie, A. Robert Lee, 2013-11-11 The outpouring of Native American literature that followed the publication of N. Scott Momaday's Pulitzer Prize-winning House Made of Dawn in 1968 continues unabated. Fiction and poetry, autobiography and discursive writing from such writers as James Welch, Gerald Vizenor, and Leslie Marmon Silko constitute what critic Kenneth Lincoln in 1983 termed the Native American Renaissance. This collection of essays takes the measure of that efflorescence. The contributors scrutinize writers from Momaday to Sherman Alexie.

analyzing works by Native women First Nations Canadian writers postmodernists and such theorists as Robert Warrior Jace Weaver and Craig Womack Weaver's own examination of the development of Native literary criticism since 1968 focuses on Native American literary nationalism Alan R Velie turns to the achievement of Momaday to examine the ways Native novelists have influenced one another Post renaissance and postmodern writers are discussed in company with newer writers such as Gordon Henry Jr and D L Birchfield Critical essays discuss the poetry of Simon Ortiz Kimberly Blaeser Diane Glancy Luci Tapahonso and Ray A Young Bear as well as the life writings of Janet Campbell Hale Carter Revard and Jim Barnes An essay on Native drama examines the work of Hanay Geiogamah the Native American Theater Ensemble and Spider Woman Theatre In the volume's concluding essay Kenneth Lincoln reflects on the history of the Native American Renaissance up to and beyond his seminal work and discusses Native literature's legacy and future The essays collected here underscore the vitality of Native American literature and the need for debate on theory and ideology
