Development of High-temperature Turbine Subsystem Technology to a "technology Readiness Status", Phase I
A. Caruvana,1978 The primary objective of the Phase I ERDA High Temperature Turbine Technology HTTT Program was to provide a Program and System Definition of the three phase program which would culminate in the testing of a Technology Readiness Vehicle TRV at the end of a six year period The TRV is designed for use in a combined cycle using coal derived fuels at a firing temperature of 2600 F growth capability to 3000 F is projected The Phase I results reported are based on a 2600 F gas turbine burning coal derived fuels The following major areas are covered overall plant design descriptions systems design descriptions turbine subsystem design combustor design phase II proposed program and phase III proposed program Details regarding final results of each of these areas are presented It is concluded that the water cooled gas turbine in combined cycle has been shown to be capable of extremely attractive levels of performance both in terms of efficiency and specific output Coupled with the ability to tolerate a wide range of coal derived fuels with minimum fuel treatment an extremely attractive system is presented for the generation of electric power Future technology development of the high firing temperature water cooled gas turbine is expected to result in the commercial introduction of this concept in combined cycles by the late 1980 s or early 1990 s Operation and Maintenance of Large Turbo-Generators Geoff Klempner,Isidor Kerszenbaum,2004-08-11 The comprehensive guide for the operation and maintenance of large turbo generators Operation and Maintenance of Large Turbo Generators is the ultimate resource for operators and inspectors of large utility and industrial generating facilities who deal with multiple units of disparate size origin and vintage It offers the complete scope of information regarding operation and maintenance of all types of turbine driven generators built in the world Based on the authors combined sixty years of generating station and design work experience the information presented in the book is designed to inform the reader about actual machine operational problems and failure modes that occur in generating stations and other types of facilities Readers will find very detailed coverage of Design and construction of generators and auxiliary systems Generator operation including interaction with the grid Monitoring diagnostics and protection of turbo generators Inspection practices including stator rotor and auxiliary systems Ideas for improving plant reliability and reducing costs and electrical failures Maintenance testing including electrical and nondestructive examination Operation and Maintenance of Large Turbo Generators comes filled with photos and graphs commonly used inspection forms and extensive references for each topic It is an indispensable resource for anyone involved in the design construction protection operation maintenance and troubleshooting of large generators in generating stations and industrial power facilities The book is also an excellent learning tool for students consultants and design engineers Proceedings of National Electric Light Association National Electric Light Association.
