

End of the year activity

Write a note to your future teacher and tell them about why you go to speech!

I use this activity with my speech language students at the end of the year. This activity serves as a review as to why the student comes to speech. I also like to hear how the student views on speech and how the teacher can help them during the following school year. I have included several different versions of this activity. Hopefully this activity can fit your students' needs!
