Collins, Sacha Powell, Kimberly Safford, 2014-06-20 Reading for pleasure urgently requires a higher profile to raise attainment and increase children s engagement as self motivated and socially interactive readers Building Communities of Engaged Readers highlights the concept of Reading Teachers who are not only knowledgeable about texts for children but are aware of their own reading identities and prepared to share their enthusiasm and understanding of what being a reader means Sharing the processes of reading with young readers is an innovative approach to developing new generations of readers Examining the interplay between the will and the skill to read the book distinctively details a reading for pleasure pedagogy and demonstrates that reader engagement is strongly influenced by relationships between children teachers families and communities Importantly it provides compelling evidence that reciprocal reading communities in school encompass a shared concept of what it means to be a reader in the 21st century considerable teacher and child knowledge of children s literature and other texts pedagogic practices which acknowledge and develop diverse reader identities spontaneous inside text talk on the part of all members a shift in the focus of control and new social spaces that encourage choice and children s rights as readers Written by experts in the literacy field and illustrated throughout with examples from the project schools it is essential reading for all those concerned with improving young people s enjoyment of and attainment in reading The School Librarian, 2001

Companion to Contemporary Black British Culture Alison Donnell, 2002-09-11 The Companion to Contemporary

Black British Culture is the first comprehensive reference book to provide multidisciplinary coverage of the field of black cultural production in Britain. The publication is of particular value because despite attracting growing academic interest in recent years this field is still often subject to critical and institutional neglect. For the purpose of the Companion the term black is used to signify African Caribbean and South Asian ethnicities while at the same time addressing the debates concerning notions of black Britishness and cultural identity. This single volume Companion covers seven intersecting areas of black British cultural production since 1970: writing, music, visual and plastic arts, performance, works, film and cinema, fashion and design, and intellectual life. With entries on distinguished practitioners, key intellectuals, seminal organizations and concepts as well as popular cultural forms and local activities, the Companion is packed with information and suggestions for further reading as well as offering a wide lens on the events and issues that have shaped the cultural interactions and productions of black Britain over the last thirty years. With a range of specialist advisors and contributors, this work promises to be an invaluable sourcebook for students, researchers and academics interested in exploring the diverse, complex and exciting field of black cultural forms in postcolonial Britain.

Family in Children's and Young Adult Literature Eleanor Spencer, Jade Dillon, Craig, 2023-11-07. Family in Children's and Young Adult Literature is a comprehensive study of the family in Anglophone children's and Young Adult literature from the early nineteenth century to the present day. Written by intellectual leaders in the field from the UK, the Americas, Europe, and Australia, this collection of essays explores the significance of the family and of familial and quasi-familial relationships in texts by a wide range of authors including the Grimms, Frances Hodgson Burnett, Rudyard Kipling, Enid Blyton, Judy Blume, Jacqueline Wilson, Malorie Blackman, Melvin Burgess, J.K. Rowling, Neil Gaiman, and others. Author-based and critical survey essays explore evolving depictions of LGBTQIA and BAME families, migrant and refugee narratives, the popular tropes of the orphan protagonist and the wicked stepmother, sibling and intergenerational familial relationships, fathers and fatherhood, the anthropomorphic animal and surrogate family, and the fractured family in paranormal and dystopian YA literature. The breadth of essays in Family in Children's and Young Adult Literature encourages readers to think beyond the outdated but culturally privileged nuclear family and is a vital resource for students, academics, educators, and practitioners.

English Matters Clare Constant, Susan Duberley, 1999. Designed for the lowest ability Key Stage 3 students, this English series provides structured coverage of grammar, punctuation, spelling, and vocabulary development. For each year, there is a student book of which this one is for Year 9, a pack of eight skills books, and a teacher's resource file.
