To The North:

The Race to the North David Wragg, 2013-01-21 In the late nineteenth century some of Britain's leading main line railway companies threw caution to the winds in an attempt to provide the fastest passenger express services between London and Scotland. These became known as the races to the north. There were two phases in 1888 and 1895 and they spurred the building of new bridges across the Firth of Forth and Firth of Tay. David Wragg's gripping detailed narrative tells the story of this epic engineering and commercial competition. He concentrates on the determination of the railway companies to see who could provide the fastest schedule between London and the main Scottish cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Perth, Dundee and Aberdeen. Casting aside their early policy of co-existence on these prestigious and lucrative routes, the West Coast and East Coast companies were drawn into a period of intense, highly publicized rivalry as they sought to dominate the market. David Wragg gives an insight into the conduct of the well-publicized highs and tragic lows of this dramatic story: the extension of the lines to the far north, the building of the Tay and Forth bridges, including the collapse of the first Tay bridge with 72 fatalities, and the repeated bids by the companies to cut the journey times. While he describes the public side of this fascinating story, David Wragg fills in the background, which is no less interesting: the pioneering engineering of the steam age, the massive construction projects, the cut-throat battle for passengers and freight, and the deep inter-company rivalries that drove the rapid development of the railways during the Victorian period. William Robert

Broughton's Voyage of Discovery to the North Pacific 1795-1798 Andrew David, 2016-02-17 Edited and richly annotated by Lt Cdr Andrew David, this volume offers for the first time a complete transcript of the handwritten journal kept by William Broughton on his voyage to the North Pacific 1795-1798, together with supplementary letters and the journal of Broughton's journey across Mexico 1793. An extensive introduction by Professor Barry Gough places the voyage in its historical context. Broughton had first visited the North Pacific in 1792 in command of the brig Chatham during Vancouver's voyage. When negotiations between Vancouver and Juan Francisco Bodega y Quadra reached an impasse, Broughton was sent back to London to seek fresh instructions, travelling across Mexico and returning to Europe in Spanish ships. Back in London in July 1793, he was appointed in command of the sloop Providence with orders to rejoin Vancouver in the Pacific, taking with him the astronomer John Crosley. A Voyage of Discovery to the North Pacific Ocean George Vancouver, 1801
