Events are generative moments in at least three senses: events are created by and condense larger-scale social structures as moments they spark and give rise to new social processes in themselves; events may also serve to analyze social situations and relationships. Based on ethnographic studies from around the world, varying from rituals and meetings over protests and conflicts to natural disasters and management, this volume analyzes generative moments through events that hold the key to understanding larger social situations. These events include the Ashura ritual in Bahrain, social cleavages in South Africa, a Buddhist cave in Nepal, drought in Burkina Faso, an earthquake in Pakistan, the cartoon crisis in Denmark, corporate management at Bang Olufsen, protest meetings in Europe, and flooding and urban citizenship in Mozambique. These are not simply destructive disasters, crises, and conflicts but also generative and constitutive of the social.
