

Many scholarship applications now require an essay of some sort. This is for a number of reasons, most importantly, the selection committee wants to get to know the applicant. It's far easier for them to award you the scholarship if they feel like they know you. Selection committees also want to make sure that you can competently express your ideas in writing. Even if you're at the top of your class and volunteer in every organization on town, you won't get the top prize if you can't put your thoughts on paper.

Writing scholarship essays for study abroad doesn't have to be much different than writing other scholarship essays. You'll want to follow the same steps and stick to the same goals, but your focus may be a bit different. These pages contain suggestions to help you get started but the best tip we can offer is other resources in your quest for the winning essay.

Read Directions. The type of essay can vary widely, from a personal statement to a project proposal, but selection committees are looking for some of the same things. Be sure to read the essay directions carefully, as some committees might outline in detail what they are looking for in the essay. Additionally, if the directions need clarification, contact the administrator directly.

Be Unique. Many students will have similar backgrounds as you which means sticking out is a crowd is paramount, and the essay requirement is the perfect opportunity to do so. It's your chance to show the scholarship selection committee how great you really are, tell them a unique story of personal perseverance, or describe your business potential and unmatched determination.

Tell Your Story. Everyone has a story to tell. Your essay can take many forms, from a personal narrative of your past accomplishments to a careful analysis of a quote, favorite author, public policy, or important global trend. Whatever form you choose (or the directions require) your goal is to show that you are more thoughtful, creative and dedicated than anyone else. As long as your story answers the essay question the sky's the limit.

Be Memorable. You can do this in two great ways, by being original and by being descriptive. Not only will this peak interest in your story, but it will help make your essay memorable. If you have a unique personal background, tell that. But remember, just because you have a special story or diverse family history doesn't mean you're scholarship worthy. When writing your story be as descriptive and detailed as you can. Don't just tell the selection committee that you are involved in alleviating poverty, tell them that you're so dedicated you've started a food drive for a local charity.

Show Initiative. The best way to do this is to contact the scholarship leader or administrator directly. Find out the goals and purpose of the sponsor organization. This will help you keep your essay on topic and relevant. Then, figure out a way to relate your interests to the organization's goals. Many times these are the most creative essays. Maybe your dream to be an international aid worker includes upgrading access to technology in rural areas. Perhaps your proposed career in international business will put you in close contact with environmental issues in urban areas. You can always find a way to relate your interests to the essay's topic.

Be honest. Finally, be sure your essay accurately depicts who you are and what you care about. Don't write what you think the selection committee wants to hear.
