Audio Book Mikko Keskinen, 2008-01-01 Audio Book deals with the ways in which the auditory voices sounds noises is represented in postphonograph narrative fiction More specifically it examines how the various technologies enabling the transmission or storing of sound and voice are figured in selected prose works Drawing from contemporary American British French and German literature the author discusses these use of these technologies in Nicholson Baker's Vox Michel Tournier's Tristan Vox Heinrich Böll's Murke's Collected Silences Don DeLillo's The Body Artist Nick Hornby's High Fidelity and Sylvia Brownrigg's The Metaphysical Touch The texts foreground sound technologies the telephone radio tape recorder answering machine record player or counterintuitively e mail in their narration and manifest important aspects of audio in literature In prior criticism these texts have not been systematically read from media technological perspectives The sound technologies represented in the texts problematize the clear distinction between speech and writing or between natural articulation and its technological reproduction Audio Book suggests that literary writing is metaphorically conceivable as a transmitting and storing technology as an audiobook of sorts capable of recording upon writing and reproducing upon reading auditory information The sound technologies proper have also bearing on the narrative structure metaphors and style of each fictional work studied in Audio Book In addition themes such as identity genre the nature of literary representation and the absence presence problem are brought to the fore on account of the technologies depicted

The Dawn of Christian Art in Panel Paintings and Icons Thomas F. Mathews, Norman E. Muller, 2017-02-01 Staking out new territory in the history of art this book presents a compelling argument for a lost link between the panel painting tradition of Greek antiquity and Christian paintings of Byzantium and the Renaissance While art historians place the origin of icons in the seventh century Thomas F Mathews finds strong evidence as early as the second century in the texts of Irenaeus and the Acts of John that describe private Christian worship In closely studying an obscure set of sixty neglected panel paintings from Egypt in Roman times the author explains how these paintings of the Egyptian gods offer the missing link in the long history of religious painting Christian panel paintings and icons are for the first time placed in a continuum with the pagan paintings that preceded them sharing elements of iconography technology and religious usages as votive offerings Exciting discoveries punctuate the narrative the technology of the triptych enormously popular in Europe traced by the authors to the construction of Egyptian portable shrines such as the Isis and Serapis of the J Paul Getty Museum the discovery that the egg tempera painting medium usually credited to Renaissance artist Cimabue has been identified in Egyptian panels a millennium earlier and the reconstruction of a ring of icons on the chancel of Saint Sophia in Istanbul This book will be a vital addition to the fields of Egyptian Graeco Roman and late antique art history and more generally to the history of painting The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art ,1876

The Moral Worlds of Contemporary Realism Mary K. Holland, 2020-06-11 Literature has never looked weirder full of images colors gadgets and footnotes and violating established norms of character plot and narrative structure Yet over the last 30 years critics have coined more than 20 new realisms in their attempts to describe it What makes this decidedly unorthodox literature realistic And if it is then what does realism mean anymore Examining literature by dozens of writers and over a century of theory and criticism about realism The Moral Worlds of Contemporary Realism sorts through the current critical confusion to illustrate how our ideas about what is real and how best to depict it have changed dramatically especially in recent years Along the way Mary K Holland guides the reader on a lively tour through the landscape of contemporary literary studies taking in metafiction ideology posthumanism postmodernism and poststructuralism with forays into quantum mechanics new materialism and Buddhism as well to give us entirely new ways of viewing how humans use language to make sense of and to make the world

Analog Fictions for the Digital Age Julia Breibach, 2012 Shows how current photographic discourse can illuminate the analysis of recent literary realism and proposes a truly original photographic hermeneutics for literary study Both realist post postmodernist aesthetics in the twenty first century and the legacy of analog photography in its recent digital incarnation depend on an aesthetics of trust and a sense of contingent referentiality Julia Breibach's innovative study demonstrates how current photographic discourse may be used as an illuminating critical idiom for the analysis of recent forms of literary realism thus proposing a photographic hermeneutics for the study of literature Along with a thorough critical investigation of both fields Breibach offers a pioneering theoretical exploration of analog and digital photography based on recent thing theory which she then applies to in depth analyses of realist aesthetics in selected post millennial novels by Don DeLillo Michael Ondaatje and Ali Smith yielding fresh perspectives on the remediation between photography and literature in the twenty first century An original contribution to the study of contemporary Anglophone literatures with an interdisciplinary appeal this study will be of interest especially to scholars and students in Anglophone literary studies comparative literature cultural studies and media studies Julia Breitbach is Assistant Professor in the Department of American Studies at the University of Konstanz Germany Ecstatic Consumption Pavlina Radia,2016-12-14 While modernity aspired to fix radical alienation through aesthetics by assigning an ethical value to narratives contemporary literature and the arts are no longer immune to the impact of commodity culture amplified by globalization In the world of commodity corporate logic and cyborgs the very notion of identity is frequently turned into a spectacle Yet it is also simultaneously mobilized by the search for what Jean Baudrillard describes as the ecstatic form that materializes aesthetics Ecstatic Consumption The Spectacle of Global Dystopia in Contemporary American Literature investigates not only how these transformations affect gender racial and class relations as well as how they impact the representation of historical events Pop culture media and discourses of multiculturalism both important venues of and vehicles for globalization have had an extensive effect on contemporary writers like Don DeLillo Marge Piercy and Jane Smiley as have the discourses of terrorism and assimilation on the works of Diana Abu Jaber Chang Rae Lee Shalom Auslander and Alissa Torres As the works of these authors show the tendency to unify the world as a global village has been frequently complicit in perpetuating oppressive neo colonial ideologies As these writers reveal literature no longer provides a solid cure for the somnambulist culture of instant gratification On the global stage the body becomes the ultimate commodity the fetish of ecstatic consumption as it is persistently mobilized by the search for ecstatic avatar anti forms Whether these forms provide an escape into a utopian space or further enhance the dystopian ecstasy is a crucial query framing this book As it shows the works of DeLillo Smiley Piercy Abu Jaber Lee Auslander and Torres provide important and challenging commentaries on the ecstatic gaze of global dystopia particularly its appetite for alterity and the tragic often disguised as interchangeable metaphors of Otherness fear anxiety terror pain and pleasure titillation exoticism and ecstasy Consequently the book sheds light on the ways in which the culture of spectacle is ever evolving manipulating and affecting the global dependence on the ecstasy of consumption and its many different forms The Art Interchange ,1883 Expressions of the Body Charlotte Baker,2009 This book contributes to a growing corpus of writing on the body bringing new perspectives to this fascinating and topical subject Feminist psychoanalytic and queer readings among others have demonstrated the extent of the functions and roles fulfilled by the body as well as the number of critical perspectives it can serve However by and large African representations of the body have been overlooked This coherent volume brings together essays on the portrayal of the body in African art film literature photography and theatre The book includes thematically linked contributions which explore issues of power and representation and reflects current trends in the study of the body and more broadly within the field of African Studies
