The Cancer Patient and Supportive Care Donald J. Higby, 2012-12-06 During the course of editing Supportive Care in Cancer Therapy Martinus Nijhoff Publishers 1983 it became apparent that several topics would have to await a second volume Furthermore development of new information and evolution of ideas continues This volume continues the intent of the first to present reviews of issues relating to supportive care and to identify areas where further definition and further research is needed The physician reading this volume will find the contents though provoking In addition to reviews authored by physicians there are chapters authored by non physicians who present a different perspective and a different style of writing Reverend Bigler writes from his long experience as a chaplain for cancer patients and tries to identify the changes that take place in the personality of the chaplain who works with dying patients Ms Kil lion and Ms Powell try to describe what an Oncology Nurse is rather than what one does Attorneys Reese and Price present a very practical summation of issues which face the cancer patient and their chapter could easily be copied and offered to one's patients furthermore this chapter gives direction to the physician who is frequently called upon for advice regarding issues which lie entirely outside his/her formal training Excellent reviews on more medical subjects are here Cancer in the Elderly should provoke oncologists to re-examine their approach to the geriatric patient disease Marks helped establish the strategy for the war on cancer in 1971 as a researcher and member of President Nixon's cancer panel. As the president and chief executive officer for nineteen years at the world's pre-eminent cancer hospital, the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, he was instrumental in ending the years of futility. He also developed better therapies that promise a new era of cancer containment. Some cancers like childhood leukemia and non-Hodgkin's lymphoma that were once deadly conditions are now survivable, even curable. New steps in prevention and early diagnosis are giving patients even more hope. On the Cancer Frontier is Marks' account of the transformation in our understanding of cancer and why there is growing optimism in our ability to stop it.

Handbook of Community Cancer Care Mark N. Gaze, Mark Gaze, Isobel M. Wilson, 2003-01-04. An authoritative handbook covering the management of all types of cancer with an emphasis on those aspects of care of the cancer patient which are of particular interest in the community, for example the presentation of cancer and palliative care. The specialist management of different types of cancer is also covered with particular regard being paid to the requirements of shared care in the community and the supportive care needed for the treatment of side effects and complications.

Richard Sandon Gutteridge, 1884. Cancer Review, 1927. The Journal of Cancer, 1924. Nutritional Management of the Cancer Patient Joy J. Wollard, 1979. Abstract. Information is presented for health care professionals to better understand cancer, the effects of various treatments, common complications, and the means to resolve them. The metabolic stress of cancer and interactions between food and drugs in the cancer patient are examined. The most significant aspects of nutritional care from initial nutritional assessment, treatments such as chemotherapy, radiation treatment, and surgery through remission and extended care are discussed. The procedures and treatment of each cancer patient should be unique. There are no set rules for nutritional management. Nutrition management for specific cancer types is discussed. Methods for types of feeding, rehabilitation techniques, and nutritional supplementation are included. Medical Times, 1915.
